TRADITION LIVES ON

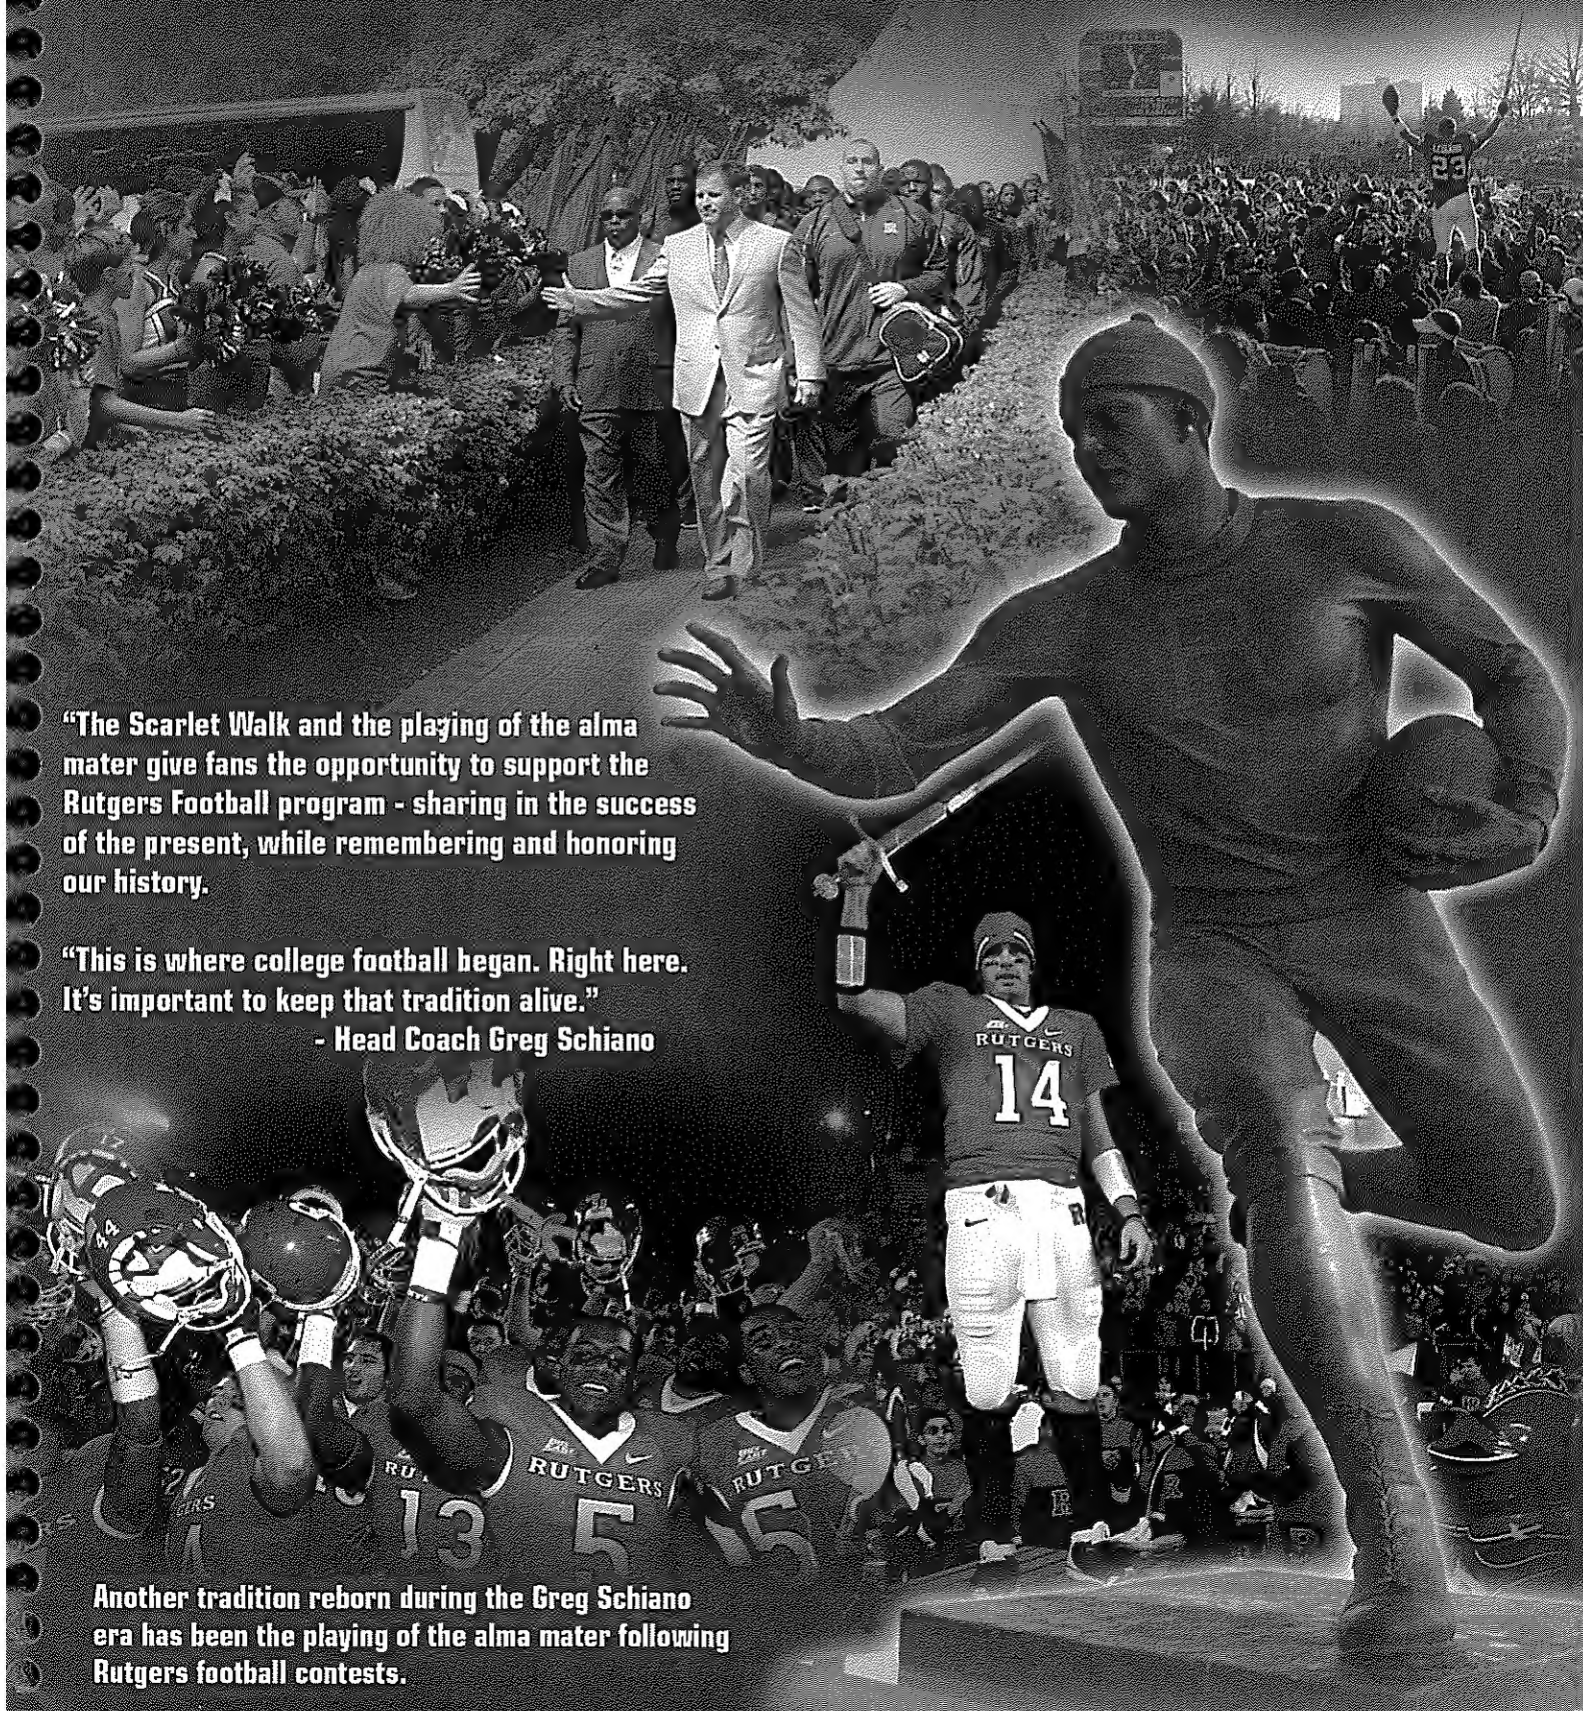

Before every home game, the team takes the SCARLET WALK. Fans line the walkway as the team touches the base of the statue commemorating the first college football game ever.

"The Scarlet Walk and the playing of the alma mater give fans the opportunity to support the Rutgers Football program - sharing in the success of the present, while remembering and honoring our history.

"This is where college football began. Right here. It's important to keep that tradition alive."

- Head Coach Greg Schiano

Another tradition reborn during the Greg Schiano era has been the playing of the alma mater following Rutgers football contests.

RUTGERS TODAY

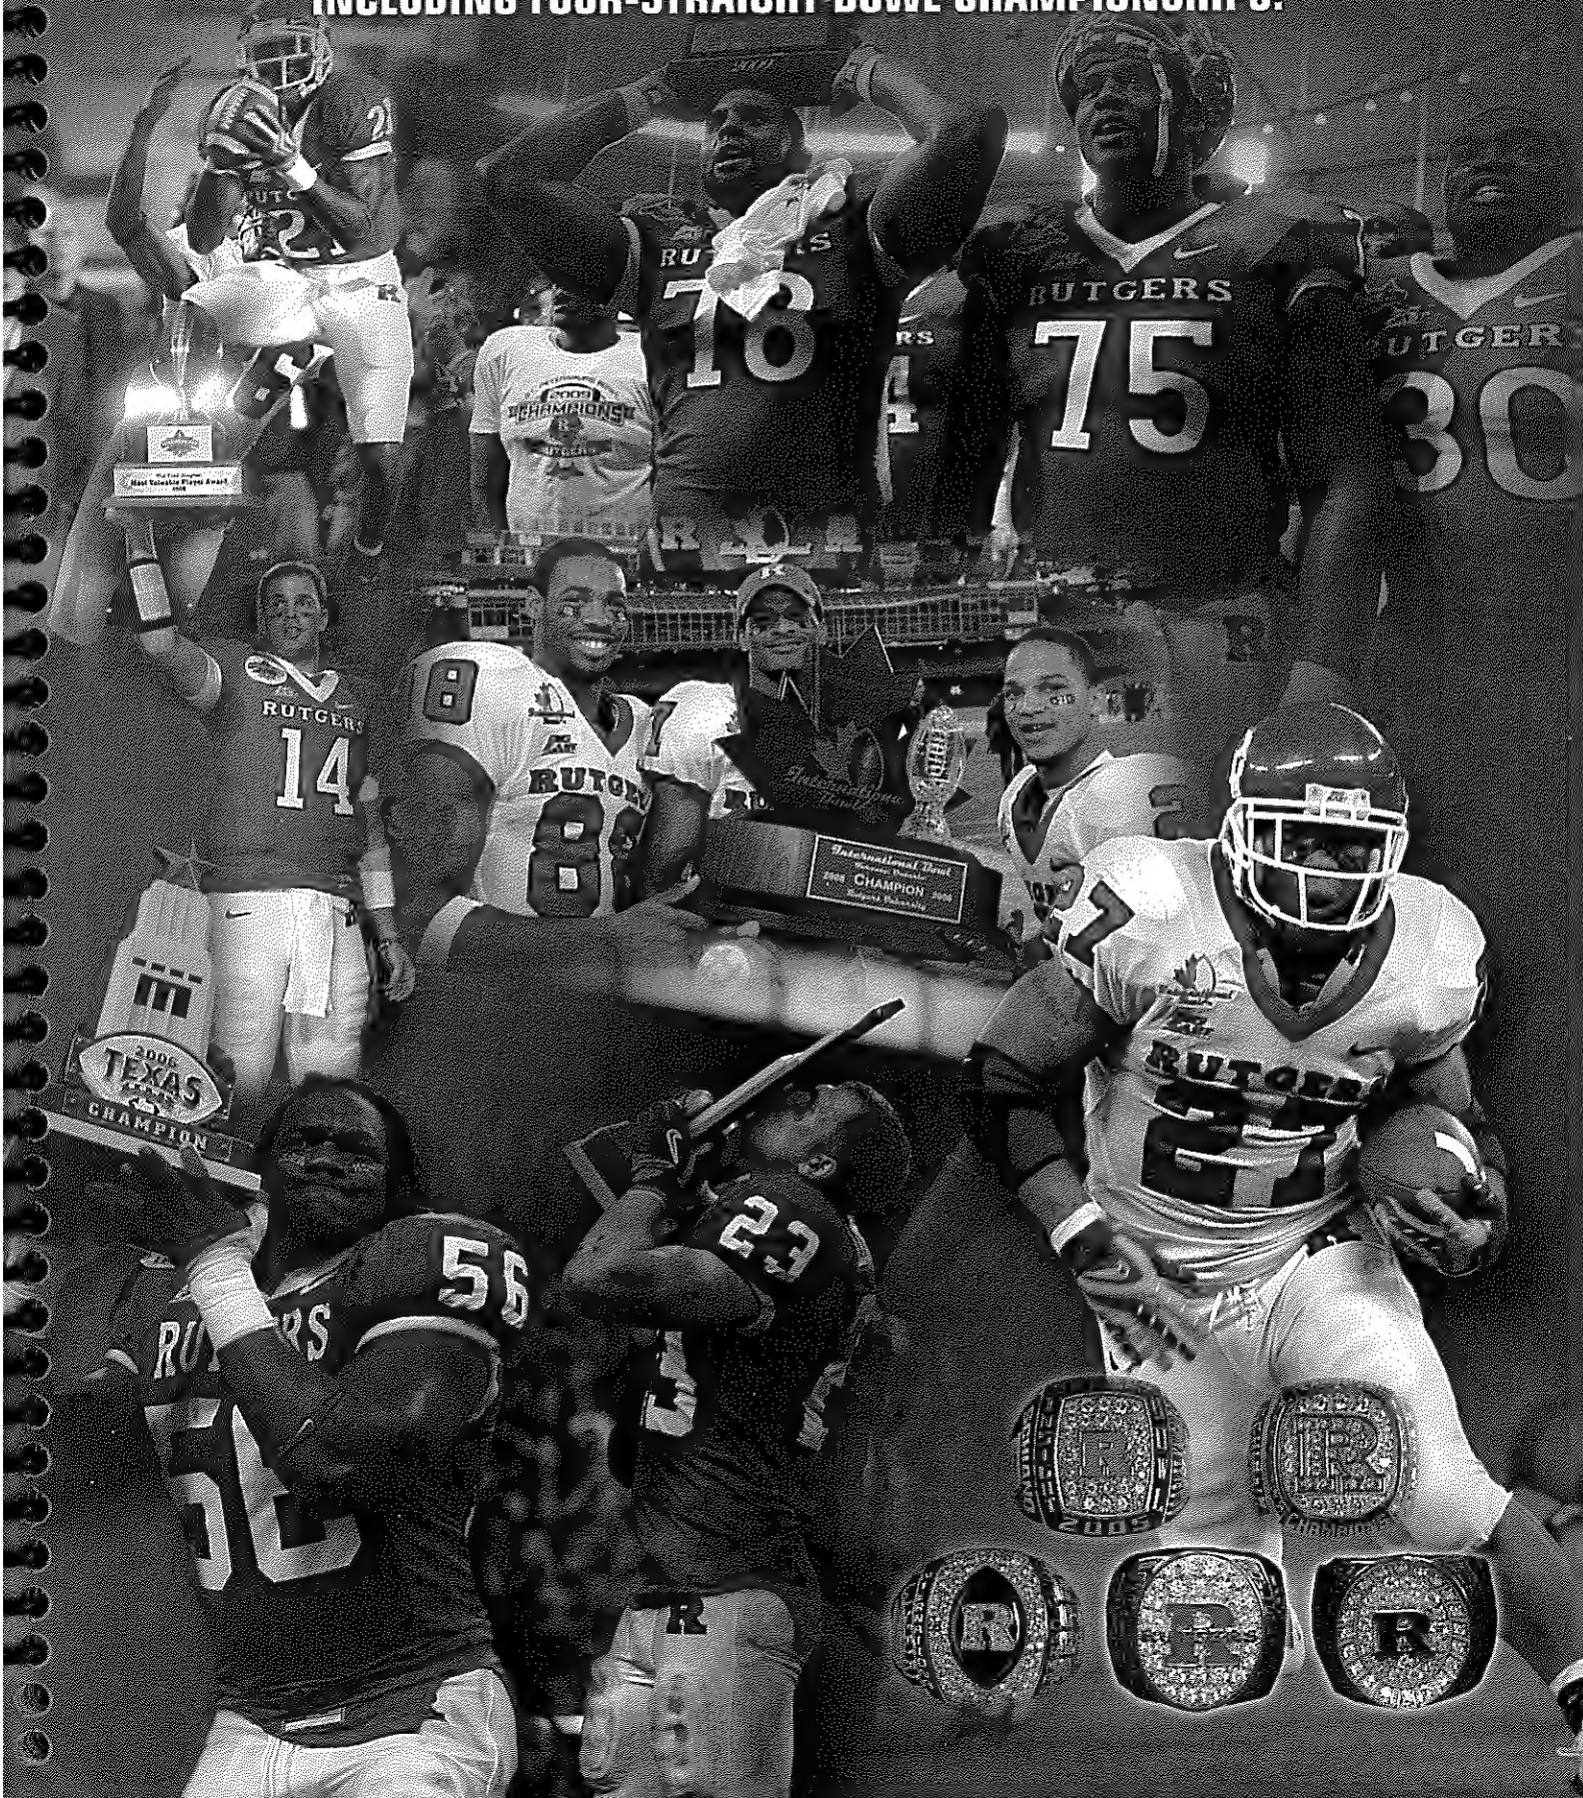

Greg Schiano returned to Rutgers in 2000 and has rebuilt this program from the ground up, making Rutgers one of the top-ranked teams in the nation and one of the great destinations for the best players in the country.

BOWL CHAMPIONS

RUTGERS HAS GONE TO FIVE BOWL GAMES IN THE LAST FIVE SEASONS, INCLUDING FOUR-STRAIGHT BOWL CHAMPIONSHIPS.

NATIONAL BOWLS

As a member of the BIG EAST Football Conference, Rutgers has direct access to the Bowl Championship Series and the National Championship game. The BIG EAST is one of six major conferences whose champion is guaranteed a spot in the BCS with a chance to play for the National Championship every year.

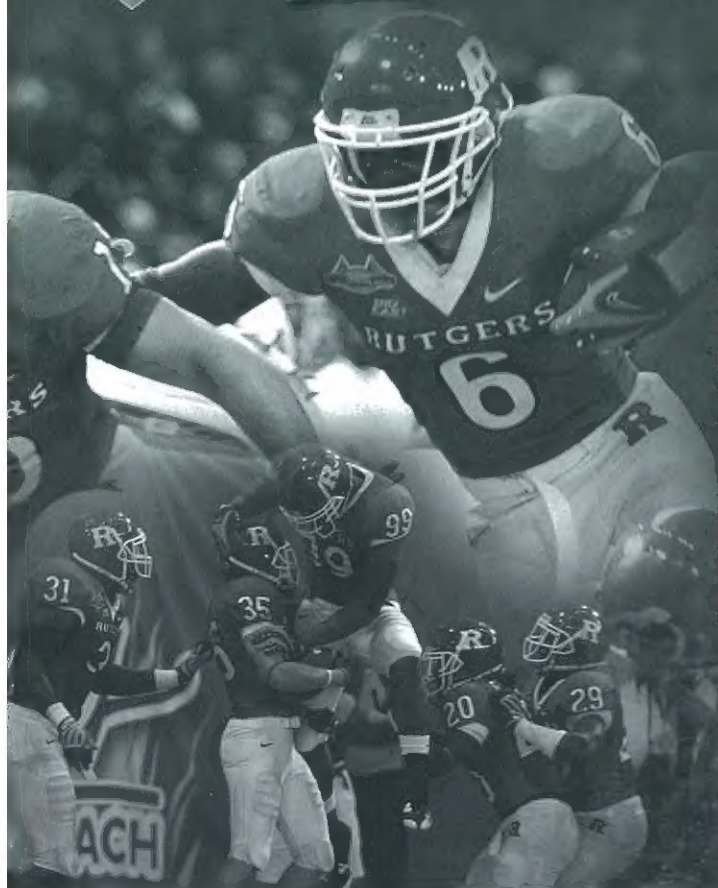

In addition to the BCS bowl bid, Rutgers has an opportunity each season to play in top-level bowls in some of the best locations in the nation!

THE BIG EAST DRAWS ATTENTION

The BIG EAST reaches the entire east coast and over 20-percent of the nation's television households every week.

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

RUTGERS IS ONE OF THE TOP ACADEMIC INSTITUTIONS IN THE COUNTRY, YEAR AFTER YEAR.

Rutgers football team achieved the nation's number one ranking in Academic Progress Rate according to the latest multi-year assessment released by the NCAA. The historic accomplishment continues a trend for the Rutgers football program of success both in the classroom and on the playing field.

The Rutgers football team's APR figure of 992 was the best ever posted by a football program in the Football Bowl Subdivision, topping the record set by Stanford in 2008 with a multi-year APR score of 986. The Scarlet Knights' four-year APR score of 992 spans the academic years of 2005-06, 2006-07, 2007-08 and 2008-09.

"We are proud of our State University's football program's latest success," said New Jersey Governor Chris Christie. "This achievement is a testament to the hard work and dedication of the student-athletes, coaches and the academic support staff."

For the consecutive year, the Rutgers football team was ranked in the top three nationally in multi-year APR rates, becoming the first university to do so. Rutgers is the only institution in the nation to have its football team ranked in the top three of APR in a bowl game in each of the last three seasons.

DID YOU KNOW...

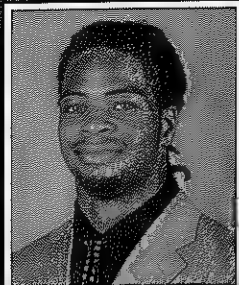

Redshirt freshmen tight ends Malcolm Bush and Paul Carrezola and redshirt defensive lineman Andre Civil are three of 19 players who spent their true freshman season honing their skills while re-sculpting their bodies in the weight room.

All three were valuable members of the scout team imitating RU's opponent and helping prepare the Scarlet Knights for the week's contest.

The Rutgers scout team is crucial to RU's preparation during game week.

At the disposal for every member of the Rutgers football program is a multi-faceted and state-of-the-art weight room facility. With over 100 machines and free weight stations, the Scarlet Knights have made marked improvements in their strength and conditioning. The facility also features a video overlay system that allows players to instantly critique their own lifting form and compare it to video of professional weight lifters on the same screen to maximize performance.

Junior defensive tackle Eric LeGrand is one of the many Scarlet Knights who has benefited greatly from the top notch technology as he has added over 35 pounds to his frame, bulking up from 240 pounds as a true freshman to his current 275-pound build. RU utilizes the expansive facility to bulk up or trim down to the ideal playing weight for optimal performance on the gridiron.

Rutgers Football Earns Prestigious #1 National Ranking in NCAA Academic Progress Rate

The Rutgers football team achieved the nation's number one ranking in Academic Progress Rate according to the latest multi-year APR figures released by the NCAA. The historic accomplishment continues a trend for the Rutgers football program of success both in the classroom and on the playing field.

The multi-year APR figure of 992 was the best ever posted by a football program in the Football Bowl Subdivision, topping the previous record set by Stanford in 2008 with a multi-year APR score of 986. The Scarlet Knights' four-year APR score of 992 covered the academic years of 2005-06, 2006-07, 2007-08 and 2008-09.

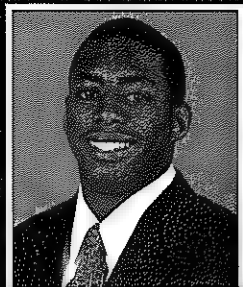

For the third consecutive year, the Rutgers football team was ranked in the top three nationally in multi-year APR rates, becoming the only public university to do so.

The top five Football Bowl Subdivision schools in terms of APR are Rutgers (992), Air Force (988), Rice (987), Northwestern (986) and Duke (983). For the third consecutive year, Rutgers football has the best APR mark of any state university in the nation.

Rutgers is the only institution in the nation to have its football team ranked in the top three of the APR and win a bowl game in each of the last three seasons. Rutgers defeated UCF in the St. Petersburg Bowl for its fourth consecutive postseason victory last December, becoming one of only four teams in the nation to win bowl games in each of the last four seasons.

The APR provides a real-time look at a team's academic success each semester or quarter by tracking the academic progress of each student-athlete. The APR includes eligibility, retention, and graduation in the calculation and provides a clear picture of the academic culture in each sport.

COACHING STAFF

Entering his 10th year as the head football coach at Rutgers University, Greg Schiano has continued to make his mark in the annals of the Birthplace of College Football. Rutgers had advanced to a postseason bowl just once in 135 years of football, however, Schiano has made that infrequency a thing of the past as the Scarlet Knights continued their recent bowl tradition, accepting a bid to their fifth-straight bowl game last season – a program first.

Rutgers is just one of four schools in the nation to win four consecutive bowl games over the last four seasons. It's another indication that Schiano and his staff have the program headed in the right direction.

Although he has created what he started out to accomplish - building one of the top programs in the nation on a rock solid foundation - both on the field and in the classroom, the ultimate goal remains the same for Schiano. Since the day he accepted the position on Dec. 1, 2000 the vision has always been winning the National Championship.

The longest-tenured coach in the BIG EAST, Schiano has guided the Scarlet Knights to new heights throughout his career "On the Banks" – including four consecutive bowl victories for the first time in school history.

The Scarlet Knights have averaged nine wins per season over the previous four years. In total, Rutgers is one of 30 teams nationally to play in five consecutive bowls.

In 2009, the Scarlet Knights saw a number of milestones set, as well as the emergence of a new era with several talented true freshmen getting their feet wet in the college ranks. Rutgers went 9-4, including a 45-24 victory over UCF in the St. Petersburg Bowl.

Prior to Schiano's arrival at Rutgers, the Scarlet Knights had never fielded a receiver who had gained 1,000 yards in a season. In 2009, Tim Brown became the fourth during his tenure to eclipse the mark. Brown also became the school's all-time leader in receiving touchdowns; passing RU's inaugural first round draft pick Kenny Britt.

The 2008 campaign for the Scarlet Knights started slowly, but the program relied on a strong foundation built by Schiano and together as a family Rutgers turned a 1-5 start into seven consecutive victories to close out the season – culminating in a 29-23 victory over NC State in the PapaJohns.com Bowl.

The on-field success under Schiano has led to attendance records at Rutgers Stadium as the program averaged over 40,000 fans per game for the fourth time in 2009. The Scarlet Knights unveiled their newly-expanded stadium and it resulted in two of the highest all-time attendance numbers, including the school record 53,737 fans in attendance for RU's season-opener against Cincinnati.

The program also opened the state-of-the-art Brown Football Recruiting Pavilion and Welcome Center, designed to help enhance the game-day experience for prospective student-athletes looking to make a home "On the Banks."

With the excitement surrounding Rutgers football at an all-time high, the on-field accolades for the players have continued under Schiano's leadership.

Three Scarlet Knights captured All-BIG EAST honors in 2009, including First Team selections Anthony Davis and Devin McCourty.

The Scarlet Knights continue to work towards their ultimate goal after five straight bowl appearances, including a sensational 2006 campaign. Rutgers ended the season with a ranking of #12 in the national polls. The success Rutgers has achieved on the field was something Schiano envisioned from the first day he became the leader of the Scarlet Knights. At his introductory press conference, Schiano stated "We're going to win at Rutgers and we're going to do it the right way."

The 2006 season was complete with a convincing 37-10 victory over Kansas State in the Texas Bowl, the first bowl championship in school history.

Schiano, the 2006 National Coach of the Year and BIG EAST Coach of the Year, has been the architect of transforming the Rutgers program into one of the nation's best. The Scarlet Knights earned their first national top-10 ranking in 2006 and won 11 games for the second time in school history.

Brian Leonard was also the recipient of the Draddy Trophy in 2006.

"All along we have said the same thing," said Schiano. "What we're doing here, we're just scratching the surface. The sky is the limit here at Rutgers and we're going to do great things. We've recruited really great young guys in this program and this is home. The same things I said at this podium the first time in this room that were true then are still true now. This state and the New York and Philadelphia metropolitan areas have all started to come together here and that's only going to get better. It's something that's never been tapped, so to me, this is a great, great situation."

A New Jersey native who returned to his roots to take over the reins of the Rutgers football program, Schiano has led the Scarlet Knights throughout his tenure with the energy, passion and boundless enthusiasm that have been the hallmarks of his career.

Schiano's impact as head coach is evident in all aspects of the Rutgers football program. Schiano and his staff have continued to upgrade the level of talent by recruiting student-athletes with outstanding athleticism and great character, all part of the building process that continues to result in on-field success.

Rutgers now boasts one of the nation's finest football complexes, highlighted by an expansive strength and conditioning facility, a state-of-the-art training room and academic support facilities which include classrooms, study rooms and computer labs.

With a state-of-the-art scoreboard and FieldTurf playing surface in place, Rutgers Stadium continues to be one of the most scenic settings for college football in the country.

Schiano's arrival signaled a new era at Rutgers, and he continues to guide the program at New Jersey's State University to the elite of the Football Bowl Subdivision. His tireless work ethic, winning attitude and commitment to the University are pillars which generate excitement throughout the "State of Rutgers."

Schiano, who grew up in Wyckoff and graduated from Ramapo High School, took over as the 27th head coach of the nation's oldest college football program on Dec. 1, 2000. On that day, Schiano proclaimed his vision of excellence for Rutgers football. "This program will be built on a rock foundation," he said. "It will take longer than building it on stilts, but when it's built, it will be built forever. This is where I started; this is where I was striving to get back to. I'm thrilled to be here. It's time."

For the first time in school history, Rutgers had two players selected in the first round of the 2010 NFL Draft: as offensive lineman Anthony Davis went 11th overall to San Francisco and cornerback Devin McCourty was taken with the 27th pick overall by the New England Patriots.

Ryan D'Imperio, who played linebacker at Rutgers, was drafted to play fullback in the seventh round by the Minnesota Vikings to round out the 2010 NFL draft picks for the Scarlet Knights. Rutgers was the only school in the BIG EAST with two first round selections and the first league school since 2004 to have multiple first round picks. In the last four NFL Drafts, Rutgers is tied for the BIG EAST lead with 13 players selected.

Four Scarlet Knights also joined the professional ranks following the draft as they signed NFL free agent contracts. Wide receiver Tim Brown (New York Giants), fullback Jack Concoran (Houston Texans), offensive lineman Kevin Haslam (Jacksonville Jaguars) and defensive lineman George Johnson (Tampa Bay Buccaneers) joined the three drafted Scarlet Knights to give RU a total of seven players from the 2009 squad on NFL rosters in 2010.

The 2009 NFL Draft was historic for Rutgers as a school-record five players were selected, including the program's inaugural first-round pick in wide receiver Kenny Britt. The Tennessee Titans selected Britt with the 30th overall pick of the draft.

Quarterback Mike Teel (Seattle Seahawks), cornerback Jason McCourty (Tennessee Titans), defensive back Courtney Greene (Seattle Seahawks) and wide receiver Tiquan Underwood (Jacksonville Jaguars) also had their names called on draft day.

Three additional members of the 2008 Scarlet Knights team also signed free agent contracts in Kevin Brock (Carolina Panthers), Kevin Malast (Chicago Bears) and Jamaal Westerman (New York Jets).

In total, 32 former Scarlet Knights who played under Schiano were on NFL rosters for the 2010 season.

In the 2008 NFL Draft, two Rutgers players were selected – Ray Rice in the second round to the Baltimore Ravens and Jeremy Zuttah to the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in the third round. Both Rice and Zuttah started multiple games during their rookie seasons in the NFL. Rice also earned NFL All-Pro honors in his second year.

Eric Foster (Indianapolis Colts) and Ron Girault (Kansas City Chiefs) also signed professional contracts in 2008. Foster has been a starter the past two seasons for the Colts at defensive tackle. In the 2007 NFL Draft, three Scarlet Knights were drafted, including Brian Leonard in the second round to the St. Louis Rams.

In all, seven players Cameron Stephenson (5th Round, Pittsburgh Steelers), Clark Harris (7th Round, Green Bay Packers), Darnell Stapleton (Pittsburgh Steelers), Derrick Roberson (Houston Texans), Ramel Meekins (Indianapolis Colts), Manny Collins (New York Jets) and Joe Porter (New Orleans Saints) from the 2006 squad signed NFL contracts prior to the 2007 NFL season.

Following the 2005 campaign, five Scarlet Knights who played for Schiano signed with NFL teams, including All-American Ryan Neill (Buffalo Bills), All-BIG EAST standout Tres Moses (Baltimore Ravens), Val Barnaby (Detroit Lions), Chris Baker (San Francisco 49ers) and Sameeh McDonald (Detroit Lions). Other NFL Knights from Schiano's reign include OL

Another former standout, defensive back Nate Jones of the Denver Broncos, was a remarkable talent on the field and in the classroom while at Rutgers. Jones became Rutgers football's first two-time Academic All-America selection, and was a member of the prestigious National Football Foundation/ College Football Hall of Fame National Scholar Class of 2003, one of just eight Football Bowl Subdivision players honored. Jones was also the recipient of the BIG EAST/Aéropostale 2003 Football Scholar-Athlete of the Year Award, and was the BIG EAST's Co-Special Teams Player of the Year in 2002.

The academic success is not just limited to individual players under Schiano, but the entire team. Rutgers football achieved the nation's number one ranking in Academic Progress Rate according to the latest multi-year APR figures released by the NCAA in June. The historic accomplishment continues a trend for the Rutgers football program of success both in the classroom and on the playing field.

The multi-year APR figure of 992 was the best ever posted by a football program in the Football Bowl Subdivision, topping the previous record set by Stanford in 2008 with a multi-year APR score of 986. The Scarlet Knights' four-year APR score of 992 covered the academic years of 2005-06, 2006-07, 2007-08 and 2008-09.

Achievement and success are nothing new to Schiano. Wherever he has been in his coaching career, success has followed. During Schiano's two-year stint as defensive coordinator at Miami (1999-2000), the Hurricanes posted a 20-5 record, including an 11-1 mark, the No. 2 national ranking and the Sugar Bowl Championship in 2000. The Hurricanes boasted one of the top scoring defenses in the nation in 2000, and were the stingiest defensive squad in the BIG EAST Conference.

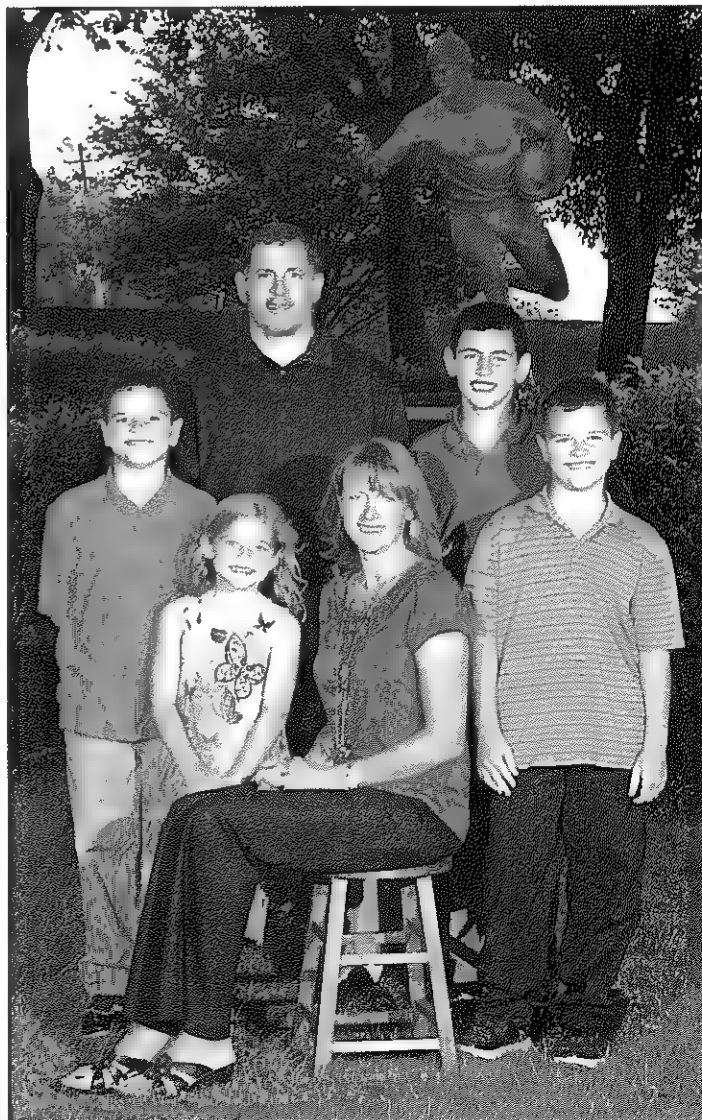

Under Schiano, the Miami defense showed rapid and marked improvement in his two seasons as defensive coordinator. The 'Canes defense closed out the 1999 season by not allowing a passing touchdown in 27 quarters, and was 12th nationally in scoring defense (allowing 17.2 points per game). In 2000, Miami surrendered just 15.5 points per game, the fewest allowed by any team in the BIG EAST and No. 5 nationally.

Prior to his assignment at Miami, Schiano spent three seasons in the NFL with the Chicago Bears (1996-98). Schiano was a defensive assistant in 1996-97, and was the defensive backfield coach in 1998. The 1997 Chicago Bears' third-down defense showed measurable improvement under Schiano's leadership, finishing first in the NFC and fourth in the NFL as opponents converted just 31.7% of their third-down attempts. In 1996, the Bears' pass defense climbed from 27th to 11th in fewest yards allowed.

Schiano was defensive backfield coach at Penn State University from 1991-95. While at Penn State, the Nittany Lions had 58 wins and made six bowl appearances in his tenure. Overall, in nine seasons as an assistant on the collegiate level, Schiano's teams advanced to eight bowl games.

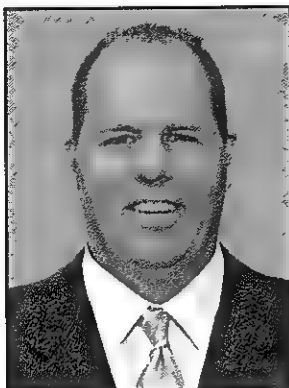

Schiano's first assignment as a coach in the college ranks came during the 1989 season, when he served as a graduate assistant coach at Rutgers, following a one-year stint as an assistant coach at his alma mater, Ramapo High School. Schiano was a standout linebacker at Ramapo, playing for head coach Mike Miello. After his initial stint at Rutgers in 1989, he moved on to Penn State as a graduate assistant coach in 1990.

Schiano is a 1988 graduate of Bucknell University where he was a three-year letterman at linebacker. He was named to the Sporting News All-America Preseason Team in 1987. He served as team captain his senior year and, as a junior, he topped the team with 114 tackles and was named all-conference. Schiano and his wife, Christy, are the proud parents of four children, Joey, John, Matt and Katie.

JAY BUTLER

ASSISTANT ATHLETIC DIRECTOR FOR STRENGTH & CONDITIONING HEAD FOOTBALL STRENGTH & CONDITIONING COACH

Jay Butler enters his sixth season as Assistant Athletic Director for Strength and Conditioning and 10th overall as Head Football Strength and Conditioning Coach.

His vast knowledge in the areas of strength and conditioning has helped the Scarlet Knights make remarkable strides in the weight room and on the field. Butler and his staff employ a tireless work ethic and demanding approach to ensure that the members of the Rutgers football program continue to grow and develop during their time "On the Banks." For his steady commitment, Butler was recognized in the March 2007 issue of American Football Monthly as Samson's Division I-A Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year.

Butler's drive to push players in the weight room has been embraced and its benefits have paid off for several Scarlet Knights who have made the seamless transition into the National Football League.

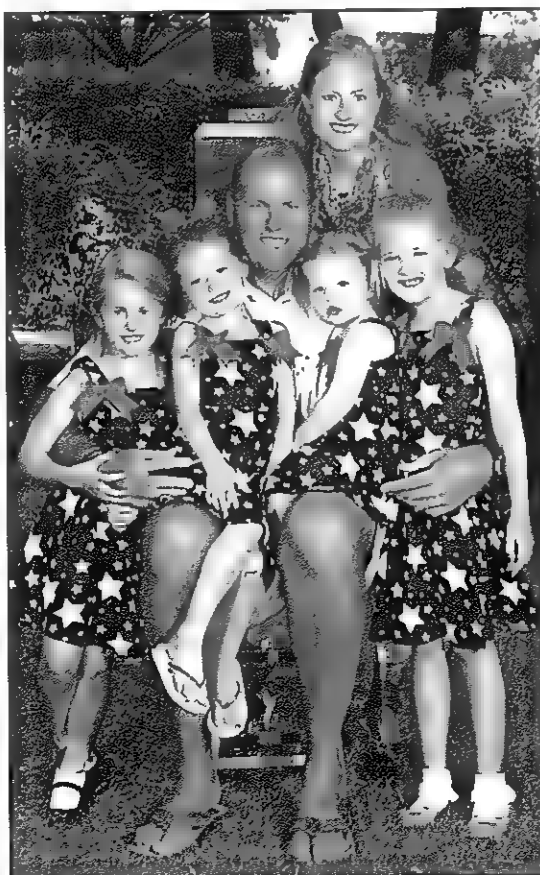

The consistent upgrades on the field as well as in the weight room were clearly evident in the 2009 NFL Draft, with a school-record five former players being selected, including the first-ever first round pick. The unprecedented success continued in 2010 as Rutgers saw a pair of Scarlet Knights taken in the first round of the NFL Draft.

Butler, who earned a Mechanical Engineering degree from Bucknell University in 1991, designed the state-of-the-art, 15,500 square foot strength and conditioning facility in the expanded Hale Center. He incorporated the latest technologies, including digital video analysis, a 60-yard FieldTurf track and other amenities to complete one of the nation's premier facilities. Its use has been integral in developing the complete football player.

Prior to joining the Scarlet Knights' staff, Butler served as the Director of Speed, Strength and Conditioning at Dartmouth College for five years (1996-2000). Before his stint at Dartmouth, Butler worked four years at East Carolina University in the strength and conditioning program. He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant for three years at ECU, while earning his master's degree. He was soon promoted to Assistant Director of Strength and Conditioning in 1995.

Butler is a 1987 graduate of nearby Hillsborough High School, where he excelled in both football and baseball. He went on to be a three-year starter and two-time All-American offensive tackle at Bucknell, before playing two seasons on the professional level.

Butler and his wife, Jo Ann, are the proud parents of four daughters, Kylie, Casey, Sydney and Katherine.

KIRK CIARROCCA

CO-OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR/QUARTERBACKS

Kirk Ciarrocca enters his third season as an assistant coach on the Rutgers football staff. He served as the co-offensive coordinator last season and will resume those duties in 2010. Ciarrocca will also coach the quarterbacks for the second-straight year after leading the wide receivers in his first season in 2008.

In his first season as co-offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach, Ciarrocca helped guide true freshman quarterback Tom Savage, who went on to earn Football Writers Association of American Freshman All-American honors, in addition to setting the single-season BIG EAST record for most passing yards by a true freshman. Savage was also second nationally among true freshmen in passing yards and touchdowns.

Ciarrocca tutored a wide receiver corps in 2008 that included all-time Rutgers and BIG EAST receiving leader Kenny Britt. Britt went on to become the Scarlet Knights' first-ever first round selection in the 2009 NFL Draft. Joining him in the professional ranks was fellow wide receiver Tiquan Underwood as the Jacksonville Jaguars selected Underwood in the seventh round.

Ciarrocca arrived at Rutgers after a six-year stint with the University of Delaware. While with the Blue Hens, Ciarrocca was the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach. In his six years at Delaware, the Blue Hens posted a combined record of 52-26, advanced to the NCAA Football Championship Subdivision playoffs three times, and captured consecutive Atlantic 10 Conference titles in 2003 and 2004.

Ciarrocca played an important role in mentoring a Blue Hen offense that helped Delaware post a 15-1 record and capture the NCAA FCS National Championship in 2003. The Blue Hens led the Atlantic 10 Conference in scoring offense and rushing offense and ranked among the Top 20 nationally in both categories.

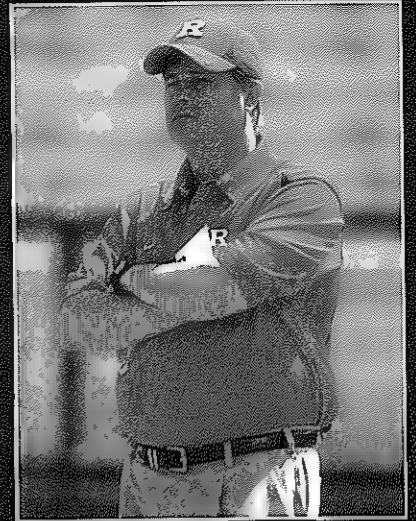

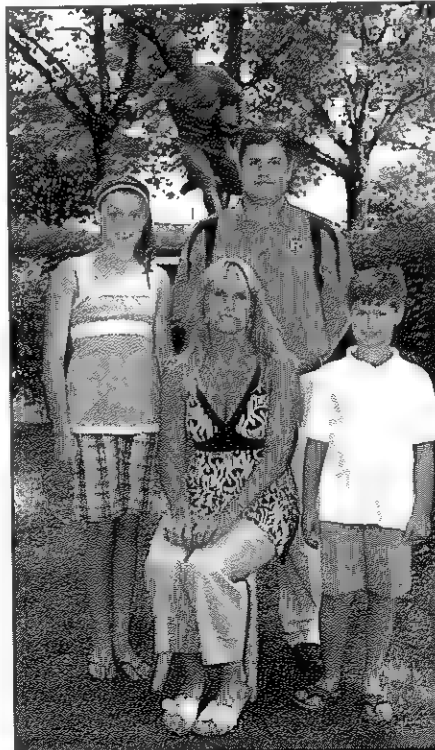

In 2007, Delaware posted an 11-4 record and advanced to the NCAA FCS title game. The Blue Hens, paced by three consensus All-Americans on offense, including quarterback Joe Flacco, led the CAA in scoring, total offense, and passing offense. Flacco went on to become a first round draft pick of the Baltimore Ravens.

Ciarrocca began his collegiate coaching career at Temple as a graduate assistant from 1990-91. While at Temple, he earned both a bachelor's degree and masters of education.

Prior to joining the Delaware staff, Ciarrocca spent two seasons as wide receivers coach at the University of Pennsylvania. While at Penn, he helped the Quakers post a record of 7-3 in 2000 and 8-1 in 2001. The Quakers were Ivy League Champions in 2000 and league runner-up in 2001.

A native of Lewisberry, Pa., Ciarrocca began his coaching career as an assistant at Red Land High School and St. Joseph's Prep in Philadelphia before arriving at Temple.

Ciarrocca and his wife Kim are the proud parents of daughter Colby and son Cade.

P.J. FLECK

WIDE RECEIVERS

P.J. Fleck begins his first season on the Rutgers staff after joining the program in the winter as the wide receivers coach.

Fleck comes to Rutgers after three seasons as the wide receivers coach at his alma mater, Northern Illinois. Fleck also served as the Huskies' recruiting coordinator last year.

A native of Sugar Grove, Ill., Fleck spent the last three seasons tutoring the Huskie wide receivers. Two of his 2008 receivers - Britt Davis and Matt Simon - signed free agent contracts with the New York Jets and New Orleans Saints, following their collegiate careers.

A leader on Northern Illinois' 2003 10-win team, Fleck began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Ohio State in 2006. He worked with the Buckeye tight ends and wide receivers and assisted with the special teams in his one season in Columbus, which culminated in a trip to the BCS National Championship Game in Glendale, Ariz.

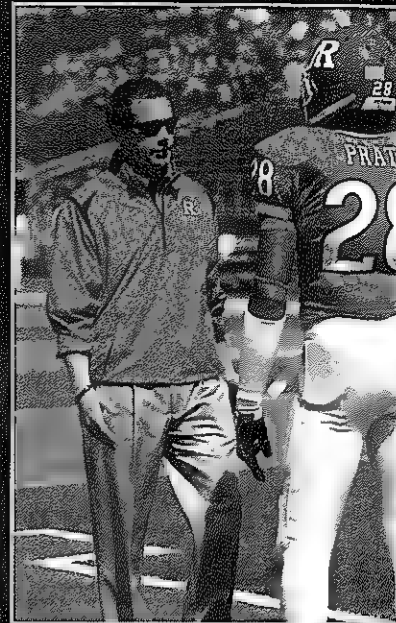

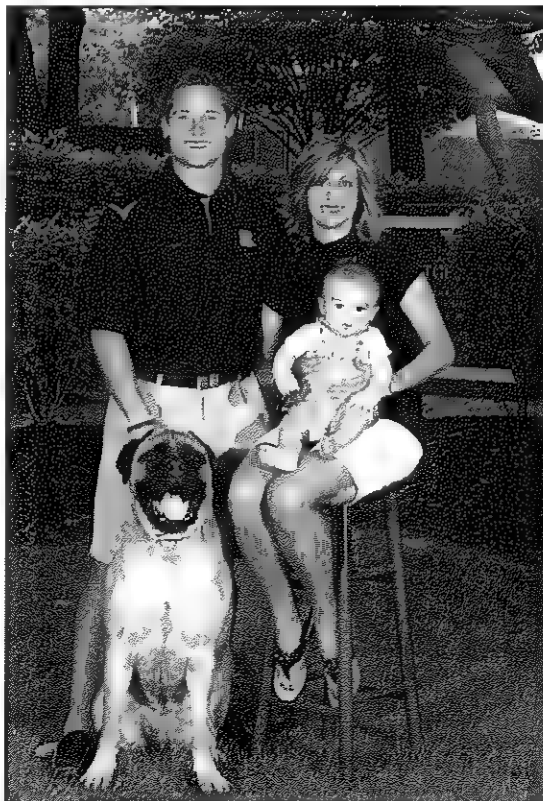

Fleck began his coaching career after two seasons as a member of the San Francisco 49ers. After signing with the 49ers as a free agent in 2004, he spent most of that season on the practice squad before making an appearance versus New England late in the year. He was placed on the injured reserve roster in 2005 before retiring from professional football in June 2006.

Fleck earned first-team All Mid-American Conference honors at Northern Illinois in 2003 while helping NIU to a 7-0 start that included upset victories over Maryland and Alabama. As a senior, he led the Huskies with 77 catches for 1,028 yards and six touchdowns, a reception total that still ranks second on the school's single-season list.

Fleck still owns the school record for career punt returns (87), is second in punt return yards (716), ranks third in career catches (179) and is fourth in receiving yards (2,162). He was a second-team Academic All-American as a senior and was twice voted team captain by his teammates.

A 2004 graduate of Northern Illinois in elementary education, Fleck is married to the former Tracie Striebel. The couple has one son, Carter Joseph [C.J.].

Fleck and his wife annually host the P.J. Fleck "Live Your Dream" Football Camp that benefits the Juvenile Arthritis Foundation (Friends of Carra), Alapecia Foundation (Locks of Love), Coach Kill's Cancer Fund and the P.J. Fleck Scholarship Fund.

Four-year player at Northern Illinois. Still owns the school record for career punt returns, second in punt return yards, third in career catches and fourth in receiving yards. Signed with the San Francisco 49ers as a free agent in 2004. Played two seasons before retiring from professional football in June 2006.

KYLE FLOOD

ASSISTANT HEAD COACH/CO-OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR/OFFENSIVE LINE

Kyle Flood is in his sixth season on the Rutgers football staff. Serving as offensive line coach during his time "On the Banks", Flood will begin his second season as co-offensive coordinator. Flood also enters his third season as Assistant Head Coach.

While under his tutelage, Rutgers has consistently produced one of the top offensive line units in college football. Several of Flood's former offensive line pupils have gone on to play professionally in the National Football League, including the 11th pick overall in the 2010 Draft, Anthony Davis - Rutgers' highest draft pick in school history.

In 2007, Flood tutored an offensive line that ranked second in the nation with just 10 sacks allowed. In addition, the Rutgers offense became the first in NCAA history to have a 3,000-yard passer, 2,000-yard rusher and two, 1,000-yard receivers in the same season.

The Rutgers offense was ranked 18th nationally in total offense in 2007. The offensive line featured two of the top tackles in the nation in Pedro Sosa and Jeremy Zuttah. Both players earned All-BIG EAST honors and were also invited to the NFL Scouting Combine in Indianapolis with Zuttah becoming a third round selection by the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

Flood added run game coordinator to his duties in 2007 and his offensive line helped pave the way for All-American running back Ray Rice, who rushed for a school and then-BIG EAST record 2,012 yards that season. Rice went on to be selected as the 55th overall pick in the NFL Draft by the Baltimore Ravens.

In 2006, Flood coached an offensive line that helped Rutgers to one of its most productive seasons as the group relinquished the fewest sacks in the nation with just eight. His unit was regarded as one of the best in the country and featured Cameron Stephenson and Darnell Stapleton, both who played in the NFL. Flood's corps of hard-nosed blockers helped guide Rice to an All-America season, as he finished second in the nation with 1,794 yards.

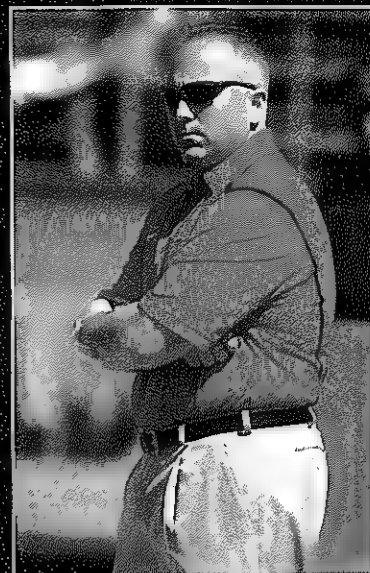

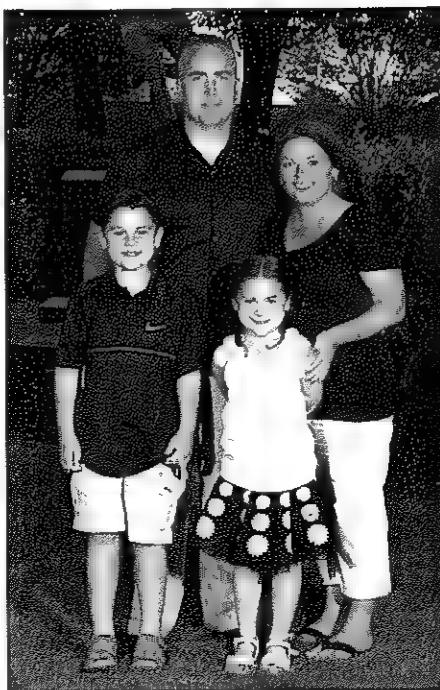

Flood came to Rutgers after three seasons at the University of Delaware, where he helped the Blue Hens to a 30-11 record, including a 15-1 mark, the NCAA FCS National Championship in 2003 and a share of the Atlantic 10 title in 2004. He also served as assistant head coach and recruiting coordinator during his stint.

Prior to his three seasons at Delaware, Flood was offensive line coach at Hofstra from 1997-2001. While at Hofstra, he helped the Pride earn berths in the NCAA FCS playoffs in 1997 and 1999-2001. The Pride were among the top offensive teams in the nation during his tenure, ranking second in total offense, fourth in passing, fifth in scoring in 2001.

Flood, a 1993 graduate of Iona College, was a four-year letterwinner for the Gaels. A high school teammate of former Rutgers All-American tight end Marco Battaglia at St. Francis Prep High School in Queens, N.Y., Flood earned first team All-Liberty Conference honors in 1991 and served as team captain of the Gaels in 1992.

Flood's first college coaching position came in 1995-96 as offensive line coach at Long Island University-C.W. Post. While coaching at C.W. Post, he helped the team to the ECAC Division II Eastern title in 1996. Flood began his coaching career at St. Francis Prep in 1993, as both offensive and defensive line coach in 1993-94.

Flood and his wife, Amy, are the proud parents of a son, Kyle, and a daughter, Isabella

BOB FRASER

CO-DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR/LINEBACKERS

Bob Fraser enters his fourth season as linebackers coach and serves as co-defensive coordinator for his second season. He brings a wealth of knowledge and experience to the program with more than two decades on the sidelines.

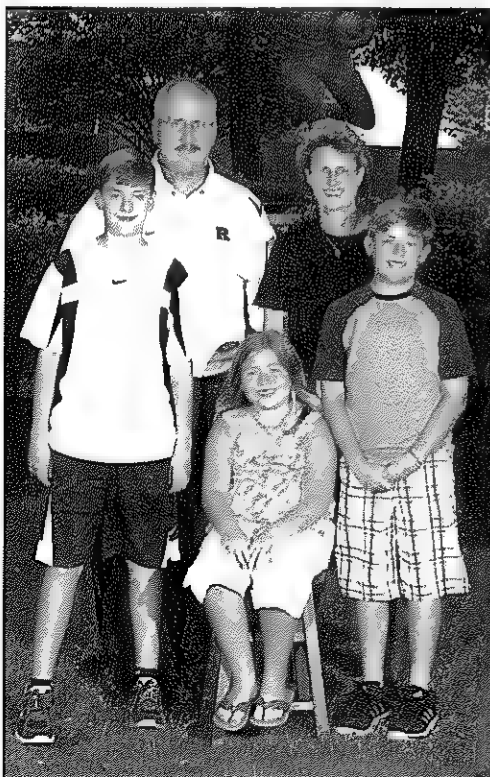

In his first season as co-defensive coordinator, Fraser helped the Rutgers defense reach great heights as the Scarlet Knights ranked in the top-20 in six categories, including leading the nation in tackles for loss and ranking fourth in sacks. RU was 15th in the country in rushing defense, 16th in scoring defense and 18th in total defense.

During his time "On the Banks", three of Fraser's former pupils have gone on to play professionally in the National Football League. All-BIG EAST linebacker Ryan D'Imperio was a seventh round draft pick of the Minnesota Vikings, while Kevin Malast and Brandon Renkart earned free agent contracts in 2008.

In his first season in 2007, he guided a unit that helped Rutgers achieve national rankings in pass defense (fifth), total defense (17th), sacks (12th), tackles for loss (20th) and scoring defense (30th). Fraser became a member of the Rutgers staff in July 2006 as Assistant to the Head Coach.

Prior to joining the RU staff, Fraser served nine seasons as linebackers coach at Colgate University. During his tenure at Colgate, he coached three Patriot League Defensive Player of the Year honorees, nine All-Patriot League selections and two All-Americans.

Fraser started his coaching career as a graduate assistant coach at his alma mater, Allegheny College for the 1985 and 1986 seasons. He later served in the same role at Rutgers for the 1987 and 1988 seasons, where he worked with then graduate assistant coach Greg Schiano for five months leading up to the 1989 season.

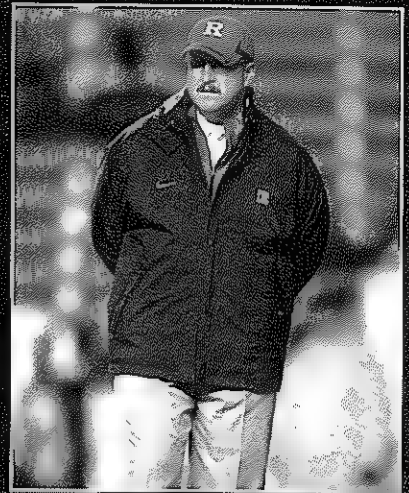

Fraser returned to Allegheny for the 1989 season in his first full-time position, spending three seasons as linebackers coach. The Gators were undefeated for two seasons and in 1990 won the NCAA Division III National Championship.

From 1992-95, Fraser coached the defensive line at Holy Cross and in 1996 was the offensive tackles and tight ends coach at Northeastern.

In a third stint at Allegheny, Fraser spent the 1997 coaching the inside and outside linebackers.

Fraser was a four-year letterwinner at Allegheny where he earned All-America honors on the defensive line as a sophomore and served as team captain in his junior and senior seasons. He was inducted into both the Allegheny College and East Allegheny High School Hall of Fames.

Fraser, a 1985 graduate from Allegheny with a degree in computer science, lives with his wife Cheryl, and their three children, sons Justin and Jason, and daughter Jessica.

PHIL GALIANO

TIGHT ENDS

Phil Galiano begins his second stint as an assistant coach on the Rutgers football staff. Galiano previously coached the defensive ends and linebackers in his first term with the Scarlet Knights from 2003-06. He will coach the tight ends in his fifth season "On the Banks."

Prior to returning to Piscataway, Galiano most recently served as the defensive coordinator and linebackers coach at Florida International. While at FIU, Galiano helped the Panthers achieve marked improvements on the defensive side of the ball. Between the 2007 and 2008 seasons, FIU jumped up 74 spots in turnover margin, 45 spots in pass efficiency defense, 36 spots in scoring defense, 34 spots in total defense and 25 spots in rush defense. The team also ranked 25th nationally in tackles for loss average, moving up 37 spots.

Galiano was a member of the Rutgers staff that saw the Scarlet Knights earn just their second bowl berth in school history and the first-ever victory with a 37-10 win over Kansas State in the Texas Bowl. Galiano's career at RU began as a defensive assistant in 2003 before being elevated to linebackers coach in 2004. He later spent the 2005 and 2006 seasons coaching the defensive ends.

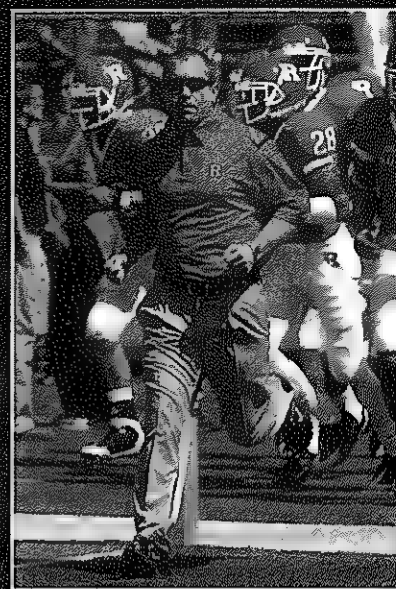

In 2006, Galiano's defensive ends were major contributors on a defensive unit that ranked fourth nationally. Rutgers' defense was fifth in the NCAA in both sacks and tackles for loss per game and produced first-team All-America and All-BIG EAST defensive lineman Eric Foster, as well as second-team All-BIG EAST defensive linemen Jamael Westerman, both current members of the National Football League.

Galiano began his coaching career at Dickinson College, where he worked with the outside linebackers during the 2000 season. He spent 2001 as outside linebackers coach at the University of New Haven before becoming an offensive assistant at Villanova in 2002, working primarily with the tight ends.

A three-year starter at safety for Shippensburg University, Galiano served as a tri-captain during his senior campaign. He helped lead the Raiders to three consecutive winning seasons from 1997-99, when they posted a 21-11 mark over that span.

Galiano, who originally hails from Norristown, Pa., graduated from Shippensburg in 2000 with a bachelor's degree in business administration. He and his wife, Kelly, have a son, Thomas Jeffrey and daughter Taylor Lee.

TODD GREINEDER

CHIEF OF STAFF/ASSISTANT TO THE HEAD COACH

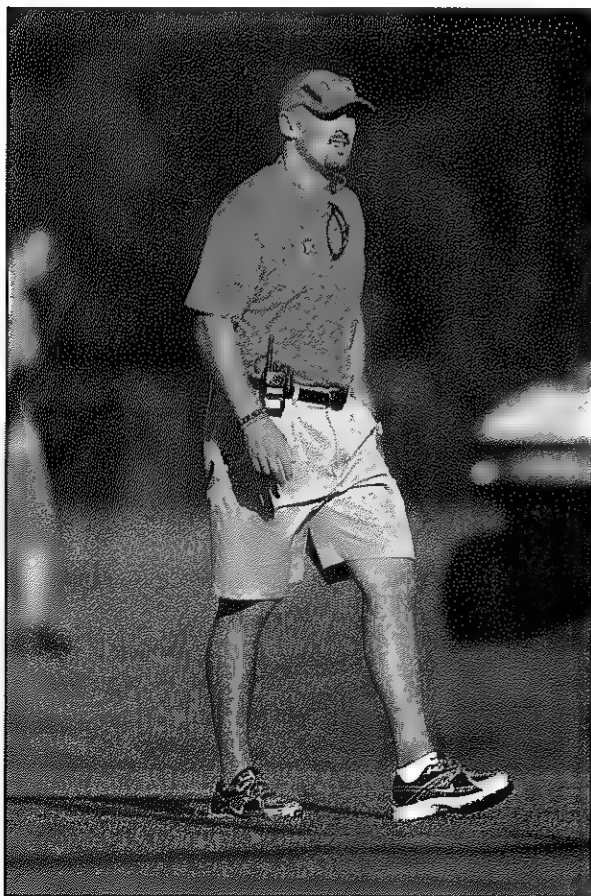

Todd Greineder serves as Chief of Staff/Assistant to the Head Coach and is in his seventh year on the Scarlet Knights' staff. Prior to his current post, Greineder worked in the area of player development in 2004 and as a graduate assistant.

After serving as defensive graduate assistant from 2005-06 and coaching the safeties, Greineder was promoted to Assistant to the Head Coach, assisting Greg Schiano with all aspects of the football program.

In 2006, Greineder was instrumental in tutoring All-BIG EAST Second Team safeties Courtney Greene and Ron Girault. The Scarlet Knights ranked sixth in the nation in pass defense and eighth in pass efficiency defense in 2006.

Greineder graduated from William & Mary in 2001, and was a four-year starter at linebacker. He concluded his outstanding career with the Tribe with 380 tackles, including 141 stops in his senior season, ranking seventh in the NCAA Football Championship Subdivision.

Greineder was a team captain, All-Atlantic 10 selection as a senior, and was also named to the NSCA All-American team.

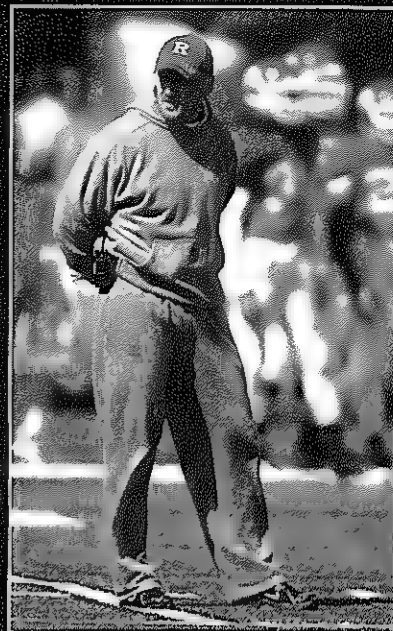

A graduate of Lancaster (Pa.) Catholic High School where he excelled in football and track & field, Greineder was named to his alma mater's Hall of Fame in 2004. He was a two-time defensive MVP of the team and holds school records for most tackles in a season and career and most touchdowns scored in a game with five.

Before his arrival to Rutgers, Greineder was co-owner of Complete Athletic Training (CAT) in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. A Certified Strength & Conditioning Specialist, he trained professional football players and prepped college athletes for the combine and professional play.

Greineder first began coaching football under the legendary George F. Smith at St. Thomas Aquinas High School in Fort Lauderdale as linebackers coach before joining the Rutgers staff.

Greineder is single and resides in New Brunswick.

CHRIS HEWITT

RUNNING BACKS

Chris Hewitt enters his seventh season as an assistant coach on the Rutgers football staff. Hewitt will coach the running backs this season after spending the previous two in charge of the cornerbacks.

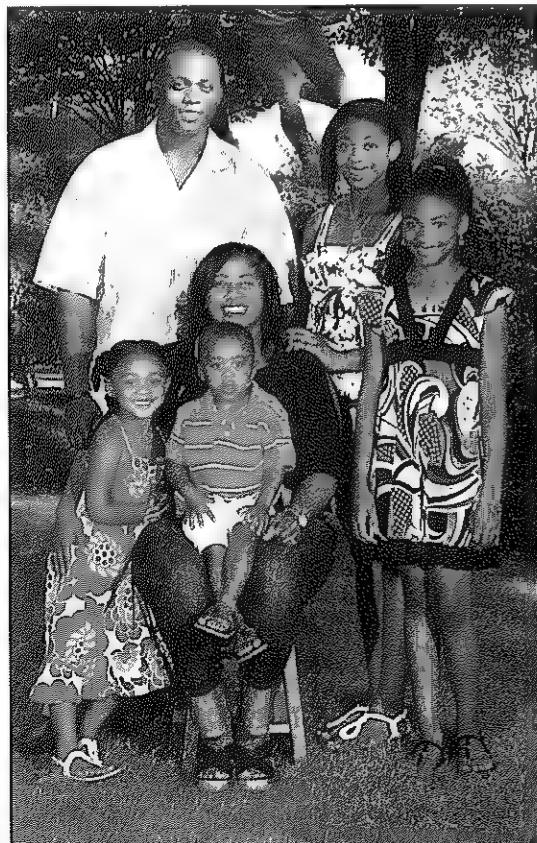

Prior to becoming cornerbacks coach, Hewitt spent three seasons as Director of Speed and Skill Development at Rutgers.

In two seasons as cornerbacks coach, Hewitt's group ranked second in the BIG EAST Conference in passing defense both years. The unit recorded six of the Scarlet Knights' 10 interceptions in 2008.

Hewitt also mentored former cornerbacks Jason and Devin McCourty. In addition to excelling on the defensive side of the ball, the pair were also standouts in the special teams phase under Hewitt's tutelage. Jason went on to be selected by the Tennessee Titans in the 2009 NFL Draft, while Devin was a first-round choice (27th overall) of the New England Patriots in 2010.

During his three-year tenure as Director of Speed and Skill Development, the Scarlet Knights made marked improvements in those areas which translated into great success on the field.

Hewitt, a graduate of Dwight Morrow High School in Englewood, enjoyed a successful collegiate career at the University of Cincinnati (1992-96), before going on to the NFL's New Orleans Saints. At Cincinnati, Hewitt was a three-year starter in the secondary, and a two-time All-Conference USA selection (1995-96). He was also named to the All-Liberty Bowl Alliance team in 1995 and the All-Independent Football Alliance team in 1993.

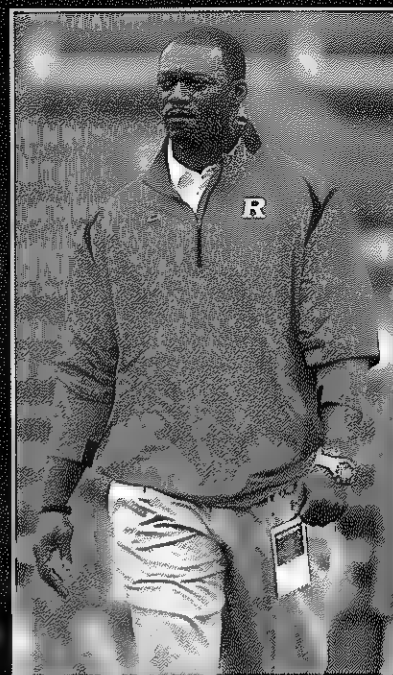

In 1993, Hewitt was named the team's Newcomer of the Year after averaging 31.5 yards per kick return, the second best single-season return average in school history at the time.

Hewitt joined the Saints as a free agent in 1997, and played four seasons in the secondary and on special teams for New Orleans.

Following his playing career, he joined the Cleveland Browns coaching staff as a participant in the NFL's Minority Coaching Fellowship Program, and worked primarily with special teams and defensive backs. In 2003, Hewitt was an assistant strength and conditioning coach at the University of Notre Dame. Hewitt also worked with the Baltimore Ravens in 2005 and the Philadelphia Eagles in 2006 as part of the NFL Fellowship Program.

Hewitt and his wife, Tanisha, are the proud parents of daughters Azia, Briana, Christina and son, Christopher.

RANDY MELVIN

DEFENSIVE LINE

Randy Melvin begins his second stint as an assistant coach on the Rutgers football staff. Melvin previously coached the defensive line in his first term with the Scarlet Knights from 2002-04 and returns in the same capacity.

Melvin most recently served as the defensive line coach at Temple in 2009. Under his tutelage, defensive end Adrian Robinson totaled 12 sacks en route to being named the Mid-American Conference's Defensive Player of the Year. The defensive unit ranked 18th in the nation in rushing defense and tied for 23rd in sacks.

Prior to joining the Owls, Melvin worked in the NFL ranks, spending four years with the Cleveland Browns.

In 2002, Melvin's first season heading the defensive line, the Scarlet Knights allowed 23.5 fewer rushing yards per game than the previous year. That progression continued in the next season as Rutgers allowed nearly 44 fewer yards per game in 2003, than it had in 2002.

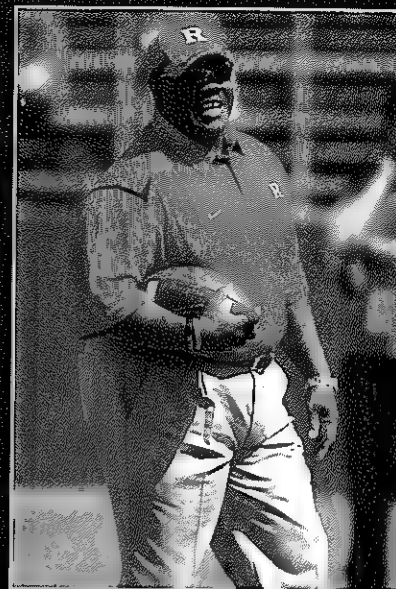

Before joining the Rutgers staff, Melvin spent two seasons (2000-01) in the National Football League, serving as defensive line coach with the Super Bowl Champion New England Patriots. Melvin gained valuable experience coaching in the pros, starting out with the Denver Broncos in 1995 as part of the NFL's minority coaching fellowship program. He participated in the program for the next two years with the New York Jets.

In 1988, Melvin entered the collegiate coaching ranks at his alma mater Eastern Illinois as the defensive line coach. After seven seasons with Eastern Illinois, he left for Wyoming to become the coach of the defensive tackles for the 1995 and 1996 seasons. The Cowboys were impressive under Melvin's tutelage, recording a Western Athletic Conference best 33 sacks in 1995, and following it up with another league best 46 sacks in 1996. From 1997 through 1999, Melvin served as Purdue's defensive ends coach.

A 1982 graduate of Eastern Illinois, Melvin was a starter on the defensive line for the Panthers for three seasons and received AP All-America recognition (Division II) in 1979 and 1980. He also earned his master's degree from the school in 1993. He was inducted into the Hall of Fame at both Eastern Illinois University (1995) and Aurora West High School (1994).

Melvin and his wife Karen have two children, Lance and Malia.

ED PINKHAM

CO-DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR/SECONDARY

Ed Pinkham returns for his third season on the Rutgers staff as the secondary coach. Pinkham will also continue as the team's co-defensive coordinator for the second season.

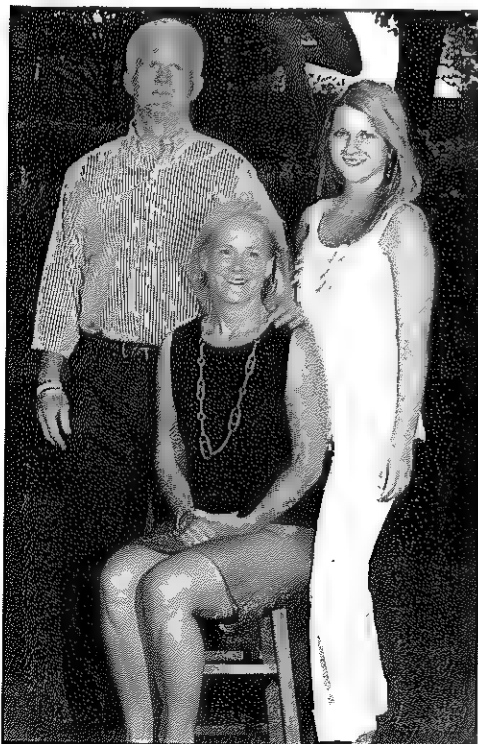

In his first season as co-defensive coordinator, Pinkham helped the Rutgers defense reach great heights as the Scarlet Knights ranked in the top-20 in five categories, including leading the nation in tackles for loss and ranking second in turnover margin. RU was 15th in the country in rushing defense, 16th in scoring defense and 18th in total defense.

Pinkham managed a defensive secondary that ranked second in the BIG EAST Conference in passing defense the past two seasons. He also helped mentor a trio of Scarlet Knights that moved onto the professional ranks in cornerback Jason McCourty (Tennessee Titans), safety Courtney Greene (Jacksonville Jaguars) and Devin McCourty, the 27th overall pick of the New England Patriots in 2010.

Prior to joining the Scarlet Knights, Pinkham spent 12 seasons in charge of the defensive unit at Colgate. Pinkham began his stint at Colgate in 1996 coaching the secondary while also serving as defensive coordinator. At the conclusion of the 2005 campaign, Pinkham was promoted to associate head coach. He continued his duties as defensive coordinator while also overseeing the linebacking corps his final two years at Colgate.

During his tenure at Colgate, the Raiders captured five Patriot League titles and earned five trips to the NCAA Football Championship Subdivision playoffs. The defensive unit led the Patriot League in total defense in 1999, 2003, 2004 and 2006, and three times paced the league in rushing defense.

Pinkham's defensive unit ranked top-10 in the nation in rushing defense three times, twice in passing defense and once in total defense. The Raiders were fifth in the nation in pass efficiency defense and ninth in total defense in 2004. In 1999, he directed the Raiders to one of their greatest defensive efforts while setting the school record for fewest total yards and rushing yards allowed in a season.

Prior to Colgate, Pinkham was defensive coordinator and associate head coach at Holy Cross for four seasons. For the first two seasons he coached the outside linebackers, before moving over to the secondary. He also enjoyed a 12-year stint at the University of New Hampshire, where he was secondary coach during his entire stay and defensive coordinator the last seven seasons. In 1989, he joined the staff at the University of Minnesota as secondary coach.

With over 30 years of coaching experience, Pinkham began his coaching career in 1975 at his alma mater, Allegheny, where he was a four-year starter at free safety. While at Allegheny, he earned all-President's Athletic Conference honors all four years and in his senior season, received second team Associated Press All-America honors. Pinkham also captained the Gators' conference winning team.

Pinkham, a native of Clark, N.J., graduated from Allegheny College in 1975 with a degree in economics. He and his wife, Karen, have three children: Matt, Kelly, and Jessie.

ROBB SMITH

SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR/CORNERBACKS

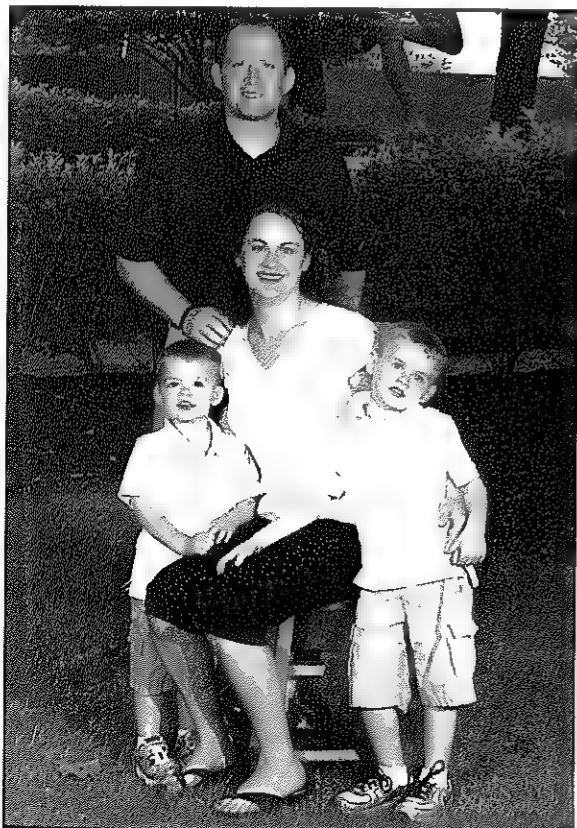

Robb Smith returns for his second season on the Rutgers staff. Smith will again resume his duties as the special teams coordinator but will move to coaching the cornerbacks after spending the 2009 season instructing the outside linebackers.

In his first season, the Scarlet Knights enjoyed measured success under Smith as the special teams coordinator. After a 2008 season in which RU did not have a special teams touchdown, Rutgers collected four in 2009 on three kick returns and a punt return. The special teams unit also recorded six blocked kicks.

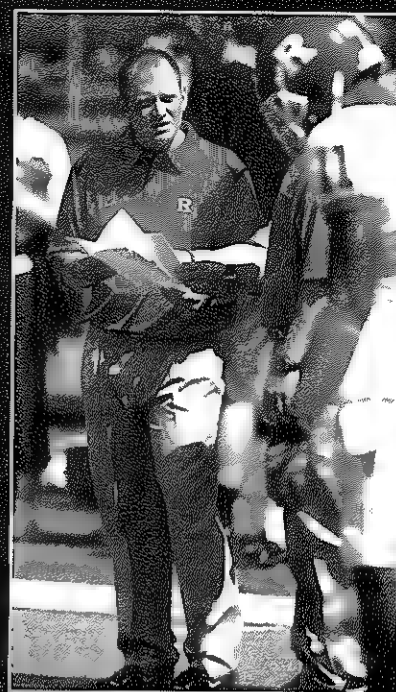

Smith arrived at Rutgers after a seven-season stint on the Maine coaching staff, most recently serving as assistant head coach and defensive coordinator. In addition to his role as defensive coordinator and assistant head coach, Smith also coached the team's linebackers.

Under Smith, Maine was ranked in the top third nationally in the Football Championship Subdivision in total defense in each of his three seasons as defensive coordinator. Smith earned the promotion to assistant head coach after leading one of the finest defenses in the nation in 2006. In his first season as the defensive coordinator, the "Black Hole" defense ranked among the top five nationally in several categories, including: rush defense (first), total defense (second), sacks (third), scoring defense (fourth) and tackles for loss (fifth).

Before joining the staff at Maine, Smith worked as a quality control/defensive graduate assistant at Iowa from 1999-2001. He was with the 2001 Hawkeye squad that defeated Texas Tech in the Alamo Bowl, 19-16.

A native of Pittsburgh, Pa., Smith played at Allegheny College from 1993-97 and was a three-year letterwinner at strong safety. Smith earned his B.A. degree in economics from Allegheny in 1997. He also earned a masters degree in communications from Iowa in 2002. Smith and his wife, Amy, are the proud parents of two sons, Charles and Jonathan.

ANDREW AURICH

DEFENSIVE ASSISTANT

Andrew Aurich joined Rutgers football in March 2009 as a member of the player development staff and returns for his second season, this time serving as a defensive assistant.

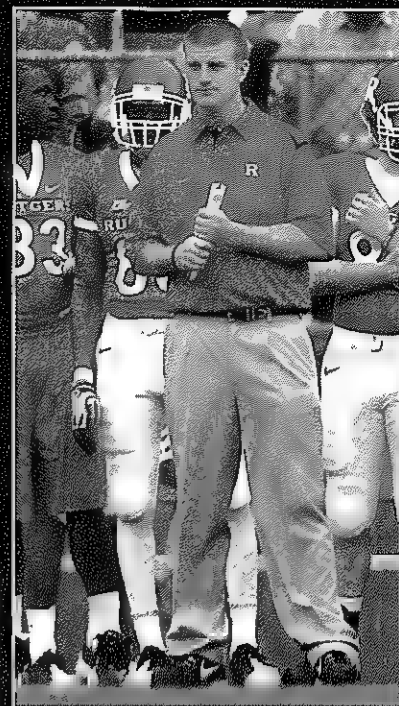

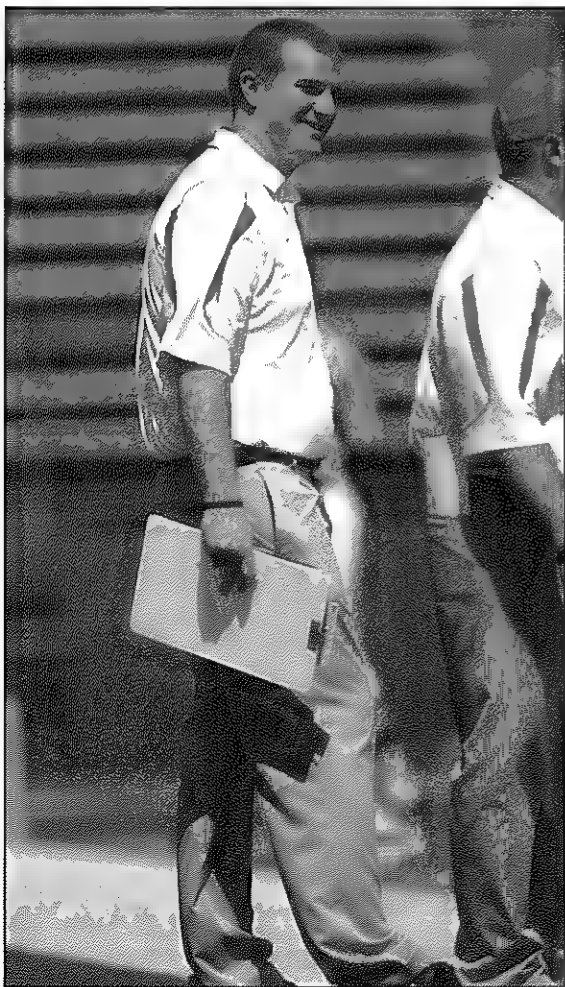

While on the Rutgers player development staff, Aurich assisted the offensive coaches with administrative aspects of game and daily practice preparation. He also mentored student-athletes as they handled the social and academic adjustment to collegiate athletics.

Aurich began his coaching career at his alma mater, Concordia Academy in Roseville, Minn. He was an assistant varsity coach during the 2006 season, working primarily with the offensive line. Aurich made his debut into the collegiate coaching ranks at Albright College in Reading, Pa., where he served as tight ends coach and assistant recruiting coordinator. He was part of a staff that turned a 2-8 program in 2006, into MAC and ECAC Bowl Champions in 2008.

A graduate of Princeton University, Aurich earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in Politics in 2006. He played on the offensive line and handled long snapping duties for the Tigers from 2002-05. Aurich was a two-year starter and member of a Princeton team that posted the best record in 10 years, finishing second in the Ivy League.

Aurich, a native of St. Paul, Minn., was a two-time all-state and all-Metro honoree as a three-year starter on the offensive and defensive lines at Concordia Academy. He also served as a two-time captain and helped lead his team to a pair of conference championships.

SCOTT WALKER

DIRECTOR OF FOOTBALL ACADEMIC SUPPORT

Scott Walker enters his seventh season at Rutgers as the Director of Football Academic Support. In his role, Walker oversees the entire academic program for the Rutgers football team.

In the most recent NCAA Academic Progress Report (APR), the Rutgers football squad ranked first nationally. Rutgers was one of only seven Football Bowl Subdivision programs to be rated in the top 10 percent in the APR scores. RU was also the only institution in the nation to have its football team ranked in the top 10 percent of the APR and win a bowl game in each of the last three seasons.

In addition, Rutgers was the lone state university on the list to be ranked in the top 10 percent nationally in APR for the third straight year. The Scarlet Knights were one of only four institutions that played in a bowl game and ranked in the top 10 percent of the APR in 2009-10.

In the last four years under Walker's guidance, the Rutgers football program has ranked in the top seven nationally (third in 2009) and has achieved the top APR of any Football Bowl Subdivision state university in the nation and also led the BIG EAST in an APR rate for a football program.

Under Walker and his staff, Rutgers has had two National Football Foundation Scholar Athletes in Brian Leonard and Brandon Renkart. Leonard received the prestigious Draddy Trophy, recognized as the "Academic Heisman," in 2006.

Prior to his tenure at Rutgers, Walker spent three seasons as an assistant football coach at Cornell. Walker was named the running backs coach at Cornell in the spring of 2001. Before joining the Cornell staff, Walker served five seasons at Georgia Tech, including three as the director of academics for the football team. In 1997, he was the assistant director of football operations. Prior to Tech, Walker was a coach at the University of Maine for six years, including the final two as the running game coordinator. Walker also spent time coaching at Purdue, Iowa and Texas.

Walker graduated from Princeton in 1984 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in geology. During his time at Princeton, he worked as the freshman defensive ends coach from 1982-84. In addition to attending college in New Jersey, Walker spent 15 years recruiting the New Jersey metropolitan area for various universities during his coaching career.

Walker and his wife, Michelle, have a son, Kyle.

RUTGERS FOOTBALL 2010

TARIQ AHMAD

DIRECTOR OF FOOTBALL RECRUITING OPERATIONS

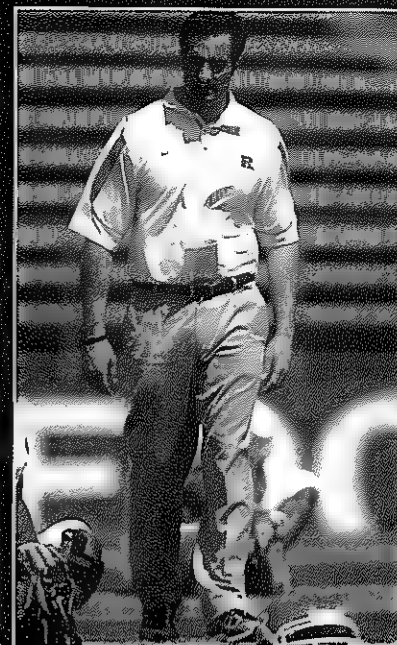

Tariq Ahmad begins his first season as Director of Football Recruiting Operations after previously serving as Director of Player Development. Ahmad arrived "On the Banks" in 2007 and is in his fourth season overall as a member of the Rutgers football coaching staff.

During the 2007 and 2008 seasons, Ahmad served in offensive player development, assisting with the offensive line. His responsibilities included the breakdown and analysis of offensive game film and contributing to the operations of practice preparation.

Prior to joining Rutgers, Ahmad worked as an offensive graduate assistant coach at his alma mater Ithaca College. While there, he instructed the running backs with game strategies and techniques. Ahmad began his collegiate coaching career at Ithaca in 2004 as a volunteer assistant coach with the offensive line.

Ahmad also worked as an assistant football coach at Lakewood High School in 2005, guiding the offensive and defensive lines. In addition, he was the head junior varsity basketball coach and assistant track and field coach, overseeing the field events.

A 2005 graduate of Ithaca College, Ahmad was a three-sport star in football, basketball and outdoor track. He was a two-time captain and two-time First Team All-ECAC selection on the gridiron, including earning All-American honors. Ahmad was also a state champion discus thrower on two occasions.

DAVID McCUNE

HEAD ATHLETIC TRAINER - FOOTBALL

David McCune is in his 10th season as Head Football Athletic Trainer at Rutgers. He oversees all aspects of athletic training from injury prevention to rehabilitation within the program. McCune also assists with the coordination of the entire athletic department's athletic training staff.

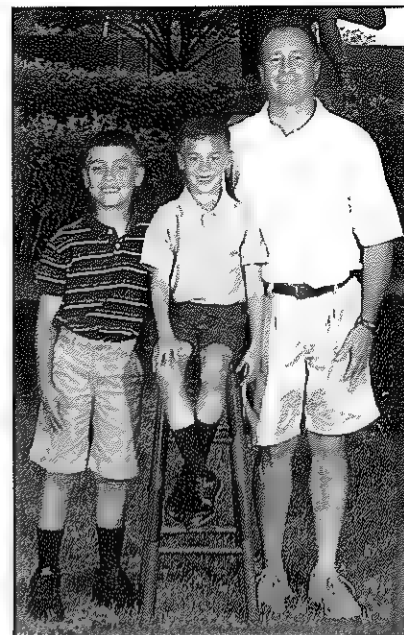

He has worked with head coach Greg Schiano for more than a decade, also serving as Coordinator of Athletic Training and Football Athletic Trainer at the University of Miami for four seasons (1997-2000), before accompanying Schiano to the Scarlet Knights for the 2001 season.

McCune, a Virginia native, received his Bachelor's Degree from James Madison, and earned his Master's Degree from Missouri State University. He began his career as an Assistant Athletic Trainer at Missouri State in 1989, where he worked for one year before being named Head Athletic Trainer at the University of Miami's HealthSouth Sports Medicine Clinic (1989-93), and named the Director of the Clinic from 1993-95.

He then returned to his alma mater, James Madison, as Athletic Trainer, where he served from 1995-97 before joining the University of Miami program.

McCune is the proud father of two sons, Devon and Braden.

ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS/SPORTS MEDICINE

Dr. Robert Monaco is in his 15th year as the Associate Director of Athletics/Sports Medicine and has served as Team Physician for the football program since his arrival in 1996. In addition to working with the football team, Monaco oversees the medical treatment for all of the University's sports. His responsibilities also include supervising a group of 11 full-time certified athletic trainers and a support staff in sports nutrition and psychology.

In addition to his work with the Scarlet Knights, Dr. Monaco is a clinical professor in the Department of Family Medicine at Robert Wood Johnson Medical School and directs the school's Sports Medicine Fellowship Program.

Dr. Monaco earned his Bachelor's Degree from Columbia University, where he was an All-Ivy League wrestler and team captain in 1986 and 1987. He went on to receive his Medical Degree from the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey, where he was a member of the Alpha Omega Alpha Medical Honor Society. He completed his residency at UMDNJ Robert Wood Johnson Medical School and St. Peter's Hospital in New Brunswick, working with the Department of Family Medicine.

Dr. Monaco has also done postgraduate study and completed a fellowship in Sports Medicine at Robert Wood Johnson Medical School, which included work at Princeton University and the Hospital for Special Surgery in New York City. In addition, Dr. Monaco holds a Master's in Public Health from Rutgers and UMDNJ Robert Wood Johnson Medical School.

A native of Nutley, N.J., Dr. Monaco comes from a family of physical educators, coaches, and athletes.

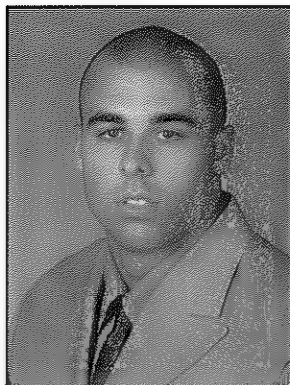

Dr. Monaco and his wife, Carolyn, are the proud parents of two children, Antonio and Angelina.

WILL GILKISON

DIRECTOR OF FOOTBALL OPERATIONS

Will Gilkison enters his first season as Director of Football Operations. Gilkison spent the previous year serving as the Director of External Operations and prior to that stint was as a member of the Rutgers football staff for three seasons.

A four-year letterwinner at linebacker with the Scarlet Knights, Gilkison captained the 2005 Insight Bowl team and was the recipient of the Paul Robeson Award, presented annually to the individual whose performance, leadership, and dedication on and off the field during his career has had the greatest impact on Rutgers Football.

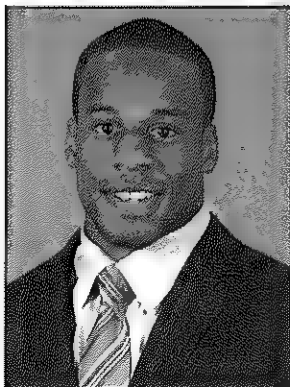

Gilkison became a member of the staff in 2006 as a student assistant. He was responsible for helping prepare and implement weekly practice schedules. Gilkison also worked as a strength and conditioning assistant during this time, creating and facilitating off-season training programs while instructing players in skill development.

In 2008, Gilkison joined the player development staff, serving as a mentor for first and second-year players. He oversaw the transition of these individuals into the college environment, assisting them with basic life skills, time management, goal setting and prioritizing.

A 2007 graduate, Gilkison earned a B.A. in History and completed his graduate degree in elementary and special education in 2008. He and his wife Katie currently reside in Union Beach, N.J. The couple recently welcomed their first child, a daughter, Margaret.

SHAWN TUCKER

ASSISTANT ATHLETIC DIRECTOR/STUDENT-ATHLETE DEVELOPMENT

Shawn Tucker begins his first season as Assistant Athletic Director for Student-Athlete Development.

Tucker, a 2007 graduate of Rutgers University and a former standout at wide receiver on the football team, leads an exciting new Life Skills initiative for student-athletes. Through programming and counseling, the Life Skills initiative will help to fortify student-athletes at Rutgers with valuable information and tools to guide decision-making in critical life-shaping areas such as career choice, personal finance, leadership, civic involvement, and healthy lifestyle choices.

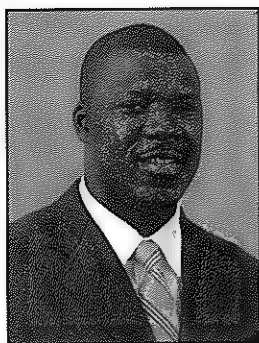

Tucker came to Rutgers to play for head coach Greg Schiano from Douglas High School in Parkland, Fla. He was named team captain as a senior and helped lead Rutgers to its first of four consecutive football bowl championships in 2006. A four-year letterwinner for the Scarlet Knights, Tucker was a key member of two bowl squads during his career "On the Banks."

As an undergraduate, Tucker served on the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee. He graduated with a double major in Geography and Labor Studies in May 2007 and began working for the Office of Continuing Professional Education at Rutgers as a program coordinator for their T.E.E.M. Gateway program. While there, Tucker was a member of a staff that received the 2010 Diversity Leadership Award.

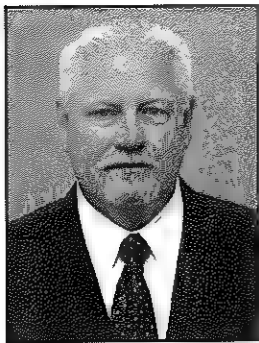

T.E.E.M. Gateway serves all parolees in Essex County, providing education and employment to all youth transitioning back into their community. Tucker's specific responsibilities included working with youth in the areas of academic, personal, career and community development. Tucker also participated in the implementation of the YE2S Center, a partnership among Rutgers, Newark Public Schools, the City of Newark and Communities in Schools of New Jersey focusing on providing education and employment services for youth in Essex County. Tucker has also mentored youth in Newark through the Rutgers Green Rangers Mural program, which focused on the beautification and revitalization of Newark through the Arts, while also serving as a key collaborator in the New Jersey High School Dropout Prevention Campaign.

Currently pursuing a master's degree in city and regional planning, Tucker and his wife Maria, reside in New Brunswick, N.J.

RUTGERS FOOTBALL

Rutgers head football coach Greg Schiano and his staff will look to fill a number of positions in several vital areas as the Scarlet Knights move into the new season. Coming off a 9-4 campaign in 2009 and a win at the St. Petersburg Bowl, Rutgers will be without the services of one of its most winningest senior classes in school history -- a group that also earned an unprecedented four-straight bowl championships.

With another solid recruiting class on tap and the return of 14 starters, the Scarlet Knights appear to have all the key elements in place for another successful season in 2010.

OFFENSE

The Rutgers offense will look to sophomore quarterback Tom Savage. As a true freshman, the Springfield, Pa., native made his collegiate debut in the second half of RU's season opener and it was clear that Savage was the heir-apparent. Appearing in 12 games with 11 starts, including the final nine contests, Savage completed 149-of-285 passes for 2,211 yards and 14 touchdowns. Savage went on to being named a Freshman All-American by three separate media outlets, including the Football Writers Association of America (FWAA). In addition, he was named the Offensive MVP at the team's annual awards banquet.

Savage will compete under center with RU's other signal caller Steve Shimko, a redshirt sophomore. Joining Rutgers' two-member group will be true freshman Chas Dodd, a top-rated quarterback prospect from South Carolina.

RETURNING QUARTERBACKS

7	Tom Savage	6-5	226	So.
12	Steve Shimko	6-5	230	So.*

* denotes redshirt year

Rutgers returns its leading rusher from 2009 in Joe Martinek. The junior carried 206 times for 967 yards and nine touchdowns in 13 games last season. His biggest impact was in helping the Scarlet Knights control the clock and possessions late in games.

RETURNING RUNNING BACKS

8	Kordell Young	5-9	190	Sr.*
22	Tyrone Putman	5-10	195	Jr.*
24	Mason Robinson	5-10	190	Jr.*
30	Edmond Laryea	6-1	223	Sr.*
34	De'Antwan Williams	5-8	195	So.
38	Joe Martinek	6-0	215	Jr.*
41	Robert Joseph	6-2	216	Fr.*
43	Nick DePaola	6-0	196	Fr.*

RU will also welcome the return of running backs Kordell Young and De'Antwan Williams. Young unfortunately suffered another setback in 2009 since making a return from a torn anterior cruciate ligament (ACL) as a sophomore. The fifth-year senior has one year of eligibility remaining and could find himself in the mix.

Williams, a sophomore who saw action in seven games as a true freshman in 2009, will also provide depth at the running back position. Nicknamed "The Rocket," Williams showed his big play ability on several occasions, effortlessly getting to the second level of defenses. He carried 44 times for 235 yards and a touchdown.

Redshirt junior Mason Robinson, who suffered a season-ending injury in the 2009 opener, has made a return to the running back position after switching to wide receiver. Robinson spent much of the 2010 spring drills recovering and will look to return to his old form in time for the first game of the season. Robinson has played in 21 career games with 353 yards on the ground and 125 receiving as a running back his first two seasons.

For the first time in three seasons, the Scarlet Knights will be in search of a starter at fullback, following the graduation of Jack Corcoran, a three-year mainstay at the position. Corcoran started 10 contests last season.

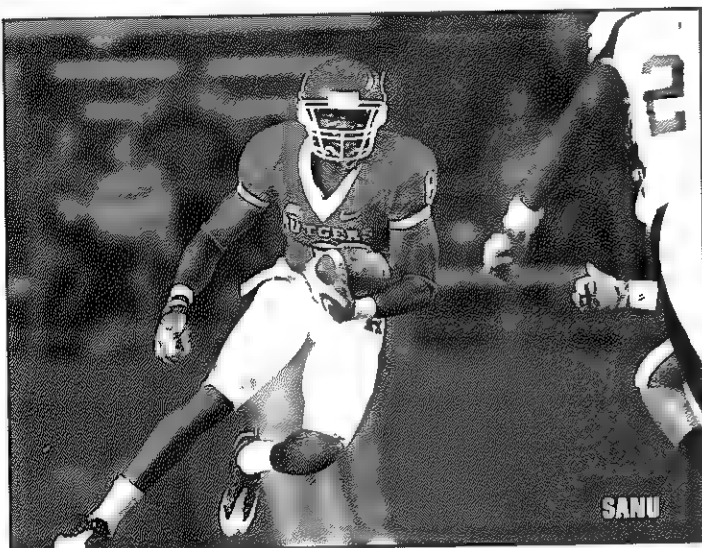

Fifth-year senior Edmond Laryea made the transition from linebacker to fullback towards the end of the 2009 season and could be the Scarlet Knights' frontrunner to assume the starting position. Also in the mix will be redshirt freshmen Nick DePaola and Robert Joseph.

2010 OUTLOOK

RETURNING WIDE RECEIVERS

5	Tim Wright	6-4	216	So.*
6	Mohamed Sanu	6-2	218	So.
9	Aaron Hayward	6-0	193	Fr.*
15	Keith Stroud	6-3	206	So.*
28	Guron Pratt	6-0	175	Fr.*
37	Jamal Merrell	6-4	204	Fr.*
80	Phil Lewis	6-2	175	Fr.*
81	Mark Harrison	6-3	230	So.

Absent from Rutgers' wide receiver corps will be All-BIG EAST wideout Tim Brown. A 1,000-yard receiver and the school's all-time leader in receiving touchdowns, Brown rounded out a career as one of the RU's most prolific deep ball threats. The Miami, Fla., native led the Scarlet Knights with 1,150 yards and nine touchdowns on 55 catches.

Rutgers will be in good hands with the return of sophomore Mohamed Sanu, who was second in receiving with 51 catches for 639 yards and three touchdowns. Originally a highly-touted safety out of high school, Sanu made the switch to the offensive side of the ball and the move proved invaluable. Sanu became the first Scarlet Knight since 1993 to run, pass and catch a touchdown in a season. Commanding the offense from the wildcat set, Sanu carried the ball 62 times for 346 yards and five TDs en route to earning Freshman All-America honors.

As one of the largest groups of returnees, Rutgers will have a number of Scarlet Knights jockeying for position on the depth chart during the 2010 season.

True sophomore Mark Harrison and redshirt sophomores Keith Stroud, Tim Wright and Guron Pratt are the remaining Scarlet Knights with the most experience at wide receiver.

Wright and Pratt emerged as two potential impact players at the conclusion of spring drills. The pair made marked improvements from their first two seasons "On the Banks" and are certain to find themselves in the mix at wide receiver. Wright was the recipient of the Mark Mills Second Effort Award, given to the most improved offensive player during spring practice and was named to the Rivals.com All-Spring Team.

Harrison will look to overcome an injury-plagued freshman campaign and earn action on the field in the same fashion of his true freshman season in 2009. Despite a hampering leg injury, Harrison showed promise, appearing in eight games, catching five passes for 83 yards and his first career TD.

Also adding depth to the position will be redshirt freshmen Aaron Hayward, Jamal Merrell and Phil Lewis.

RETURNING TIGHT ENDS

10	D.C. Jefferson	6-6	258	So.*
88	Malcolm Bush	6-4	243	Fr.*
89	Paul Carrezola	6-2	235	Fr.*
98	Evan Lampert	6-3	249	Jr.*

At the tight end position, the Scarlet Knights will look to redshirt sophomore D.C. Jefferson as the most experienced tight end on the roster. Jefferson, a former quarterback, appeared in 12 games, catching five passes for 104 yards, including a career long of 46 yards on his first-ever collegiate reception.

Also in the mix is junior Evan Lampert who played in all 13 games last season as a blocking tight end as well as on special teams. Helping to add depth will be redshirt freshmen Malcolm Bush and Paul Carrezola.

RETURNING OFFENSIVE LINEMEN

53	Jamal Wilson	6-5	307	Fr.*
55	Betim Bujari	6-4	292	Fr.
57	Frank Quartucci	6-4	290	Fr.
59	David Osei	6-4	266	Fr.*
60	Caleb Ruch	6-4	290	Jr.
63	Beau Bachety	6-4	260	So.*
64	Nicholas Libonati	6-3	291	So.*
68	Matt McBride	6-6	280	Fr.*
70	Desmond Wynn	6-6	290	Jr.*
71	Devon Watkis	6-7	310	So.*
73	Desmond Stapleton	6-5	285	Jr.*
74	Howard Barbieri	6-5	304	Sr.*
75	Antwan Lowery	6-4	302	Fr.*
76	Mo Lange	6-7	300	Sr.*
77	Art Forst	6-8	311	Jr.

For the first time since 2007, the Scarlet Knights will be forced to replace a pair of bookend tackles following the graduation of right tackle Kevin Haslam and the departure of left tackle Anthony Davis, who became Rutgers' highest-ever NFL draft pick as he was chosen 11th overall by the San Francisco 49ers. RU will also have to find a replacement for three-year starter at center Ryan Blaszczyk.

Juniors Art Forst and Desmond Stapleton are two linemen with experience that will be counted on heavily in 2010. Forst has started as a guard since his true freshman season, while Stapleton has been Davis' understudy on the two-deep the past two seasons.

Fifth-year senior Howard Barbieri and juniors Caleb Ruch and Desmond Wynn have seen extensive time on the offensive line during their careers "On the Banks" and should be key contributors up front.

The Scarlet Knights will have depth on the offensive line with the return of senior Mo Lange, sophomores Devon Watkis and Nicholas Libonati, and redshirt freshmen David Osei and Jamal Wilson. A highly-touted defensive lineman out of high school, Antwan Lowery made the switch to the offensive side of the ball and earned significant time this past spring as he completes the transition to offensive guard.

Rutgers also welcomed three early enrollees last spring in Betim Bujari, Frank Quartucci and Hofstra transfer Matt McBride. The trio was able to workout during spring camp and should gain a boost from the early jump on learning the Scarlet Knights offense.

DEFENSE

Rutgers lost impact players at all three levels of its defense with the graduation of three-year starter on the defensive line George Johnson, starting linebackers Ryan D'Imperio and Damaso Munoz, starting All-BIG EAST corner Devin McCourty and starting safety Zeire Kitchen.

Returning on the defensive line will be senior end Alex Silvestro. Since breaking into the rotation as a true freshman in 2007, Silvestro has appeared in 37 career games. He made the switch from defensive tackle to his more natural position at end, making 42 tackles, including 12.0 for loss. He also recorded two sacks, an interception and recovered four fumbles.

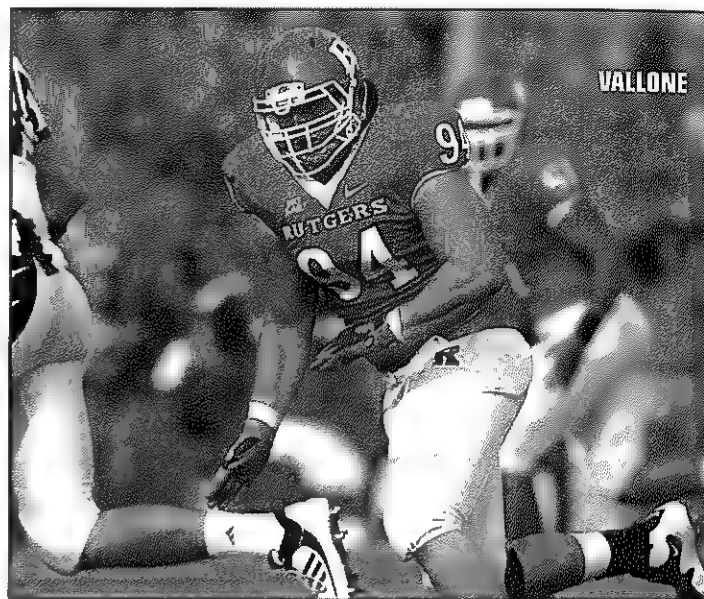

RETURNING DEFENSIVE LINEMEN

45	Alex Silvestro	6-4	260	Sr.
52	Eric LeGrand	6-2	275	Jr.
54	Junior Solice	6-3	240	Fr.*
57	Sorie Bayoh	6-3	250	Sr.*
72	Isaac Holmes	6-3	277	Fr.*
87	Fabian Ruiz	6-4	245	Jr.*
90	Michael Larrow	6-4	252	Fr.*
91	Justin Francis	6-4	262	Jr.*
92	Jamil Merrell	6-4	250	Fr.*
94	Scott Vallone	6-3	270	So.*
96	Charlie Noonan	6-2	274	Sr.*
97	Andre Civil	6-3	256	Fr.*
99	Jonathan Freeny	6-3	250	Sr.

He will be joined on the defensive line by fellow starters Charlie Noonan and Scott Vallone. Noonan, a fifth-year senior, emerged as a standout tackle in 2009 along with Vallone who earned FWAA Freshman All-

American honors for his performance. Vallone had 41 tackles, 9.0 for loss and 1.5 sacks.

Senior Jonathan Freeny will likely step into the other starting role at defensive end opposite to Silvestro after spending the past three seasons as the backup to Johnson. Freeny had 32 tackles, 12.0 for loss and a team-best nine sacks.

Providing depth on the defensive line will be junior Eric LeGrand who appeared in all 13 games with 33 tackles, 7.5 for loss and 2.0 sacks. He also recovered two fumbles. Junior Justin Francis returned after missing the 2008 season and saw action in 12 contests at tackle. He posted 14 tackles, 5.0 for loss and 3.5 sacks, while fifth-year senior Sorie Bayoh will also be in the rotation at defensive end.

Four redshirt freshmen will look to break into the two-deep at the start of the 2010 season. Andre Civil, Isaac Holmes, Jamil Merrell and Michael Larrow will each try to impress the coaching staff and make their collegiate debuts.

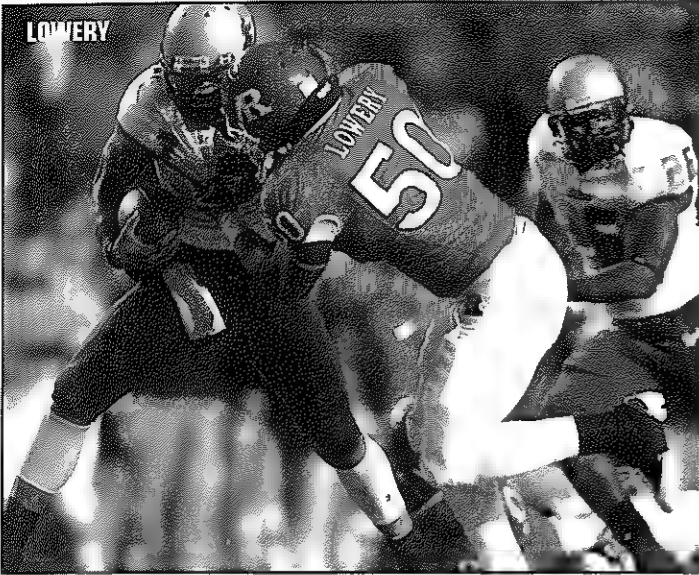

RETURNING LINEBACKERS

13	Ka'Lial Glaud	6-2	223	So.
40	Colin McEvoy	6-1	215	Sr.
42	Steve Beauharnais	6-2	230	So.

50	Antonio Lowery	6-2	225	Sr.
51	Manny Abreu	6-3	245	Jr.*
53	Jim Dumont	6-1	222	Sr.*
56	Marvin Booker	6-2	220	So.*

The linebacker corps returns two starters in senior Antonio Lowery and sophomore Steve Beauharnais. Lowery started eight contests in 2009, while Beauharnais made four starts, including the final three games. Lowery is the team's leading returning tackler with 55 stops. He also had 7.5 tackles for loss and 1.0 sack. Beauharnais emerged as the season progressed and finished with 36 tackles, 7.0 for loss and 5.0 sacks.

Junior Manny Abreu has been a solid contributor since arriving in 2007 and will likely see time in the rotation along with senior Jim Dumont, junior Marvin Booker and sophomore Ka'Lial Glaud. Glaud was another standout linebacker who earned playing time as a true freshman.

Adding depth to the group will be seniors Al-Ghaffaar Lane and Colin McEvoy.

RETURNING DEFENSIVE BACKS

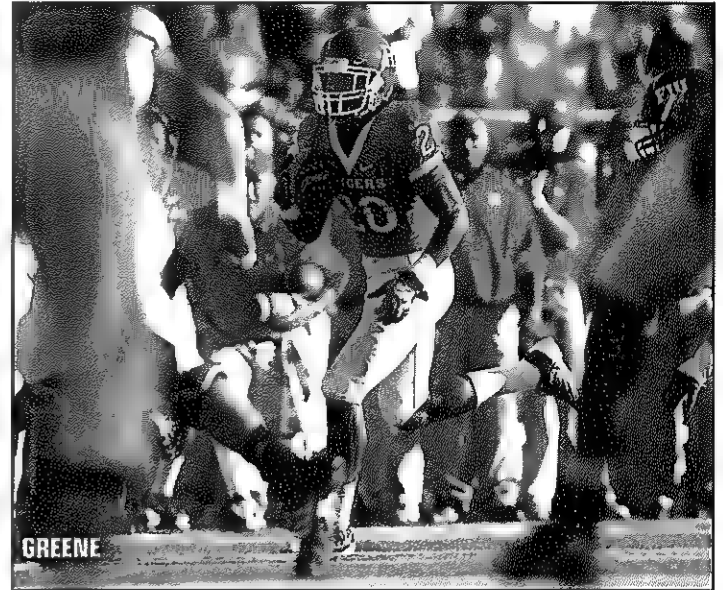

3	Darrell Givens	6-1	180	Fr.*
4	David Rowe	6-0	196	Jr.
11	Logan Ryan	6-0	186	Fr.*
12	Marcus Cooper	6-2	185	So.*
20	Khaseem Greene	6-1	215	So.*
23	Brandon Bing	5-11	180	Sr.
25	Brandon Jones	6-1	187	So.*
26	Joe Lefeged	6-1	205	Sr.
27	Wayne Warren	6-1	204	So.*
32	Duron Harmon	6-1	198	So.
33	Jawann Westerman	5-11	180	Jr.*
47	Patrick Kivlehan	6-2	211	Jr.

The defensive backfield will be led by senior Joe Lefeged, who spent last season as a starter at strong safety. Lefeged had 44 tackles, 2.5 for loss and an interception. He also developed into a standout in the return game, taking a kickoff 91 yards for a touchdown against West Virginia.

Also in the mix at safety are a trio of sophomores in Duron Harmon, Khaseem Greene and Wayne Warren, as well as junior Patrick Kivlehan. Harmon saw action in 12 games as a true freshman primarily on special teams, while Greene saw extensive action at safety, recording 33 tackles and a pair of interceptions. Greene also earned the Douglas A. Smith Award for his efforts as the most improved defensive player in the spring en route to being named to the Sporting News All-Spring Team.

Kivlehan, who was coming off a solid true freshman season, suffered an injury which set him back in 2009. Redshirt freshman Darrell Givens, originally recruited as a cornerback, made the move to safety at the end of spring drills and will provide the unit with added depth. Junior David Rowe started at the other cornerback position opposite McCourty and will likely reassume his role. He appeared in all 13 games with 36 tackles, 3.5 for loss and two interceptions. Also in the mix at cornerback is senior Brandon Bing and sophomore Brandon Jones. Bing played in seven games, making two starts, while Jones saw action in 11 contests.

Highly-touted redshirt freshman Logan Ryan will look to help bolster the cornerback rotation along with redshirt sophomore Marcus Cooper, who spent his first two seasons as a wide receiver. The pair saw action during the spring and will continue to hone their skills as the 2010 season opens.

SPECIAL TEAMS

Rutgers returns both its starting punter and place kicker in Teddy Dellaganna and San San Te, however, the special teams unit may be most impacted by the loss of its starting long snapper Andrew DePaola.

Dellaganna punted 68 times for an average of 42.2 yards, including a season-long 60 yards. He also placed 26 punts inside the opponent's 20 yard line. Te connected on 18-of-28 field goals and was a perfect 39-of-39 on extra points.

RETURNING SPECIALISTS

1	San San Te	5-9	180	Jr.*
2	Kyle Sullivan	5-11	176	Fr.*
63	Clem Udovich	6-2	235	Sr.*
85	Robert Jones	6-0	208	Fr.*
93	Teddy Dellaganna	6-2	210	Sr.*

Providing depth on specials teams is backup placekicker Kyle Sullivan. Defensive lineman Clem Udovich and redshirt sophomore Robert Jones will compete for the vacated long snapper position.

John Marinatto became the third commissioner of the BIG EAST Conference July 1, 2009. He was the unanimous choice of the conference's chancellors and presidents, who announced his appointment in November 2008.

John M. Marinatto
Commissioner

Marinatto follows Michael Tranchese, who had served as BIG EAST Commissioner since 1990, and Dave Gavitt, who served from 1979-1990, as the overseer of the largest Division I athletics conference. Marinatto will continue to create the best possible climate for BIG EAST student-athletes to succeed academically and athletically through sportsmanship and ethical conduct.

Marinatto brings a deep-rooted familiarity with the BIG EAST into his new role as commissioner. He had served as the conference's senior associate commissioner since 2002 and spent 14 years as Director of Athletics at Providence College. His wide and varied experience on conference and national committees adds to his expertise.

RUTGERS FOOTBALL 2010

2009 SEASON REVIEW

THE BIRTHPLACE OF COLLEGE FOOTBALL

2009 SEASON REVIEW

Looking Back at a Successful 2009 Campaign

- Rutgers finished the season 9-4 after a 45-24 victory December 19 vs. UCF in the St. Petersburg Bowl
- Defensively, Rutgers was ranked in the top 20 nationally in six different categories
- Rutgers was first nationally in fumbles recovered and tackles for loss and ranked second in turnover margin
- The Rutgers defense was also fourth in the nation in sacks, fifth in turnovers gained, ninth in first downs allowed, 10th in third down efficiency defense and 10th in fourth down efficiency defense
- Rutgers led the BIG EAST in total defense, scoring defense, turnover margin and tackles for loss
- With a true freshman starting at quarterback, Rutgers won nine games in a season for just the sixth time in school history, including a 31-0 victory over then 23rd-ranked USF

Two First Round Selections

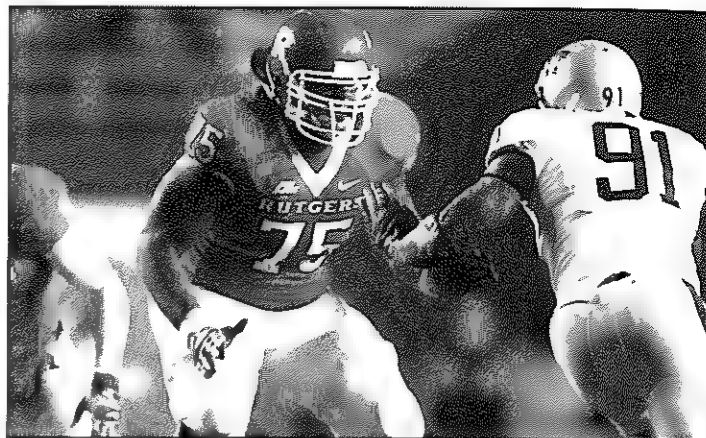

For the first time in school history, Rutgers had two student-athletes selected in the first round of the 2010 NFL Draft in April. Junior offensive tackle Anthony Davis became the highest-drafted Scarlet Knight in history after being selected with the 11th overall pick by the San Francisco 49ers. Senior cornerback Devin McCourty followed Davis in the first round by going 27th overall to the New England Patriots.

Rutgers was the first BIG EAST school with two first round picks in the same draft since Miami and Virginia Tech in 2004.

For the second straight year, Rutgers had a player taken in the first round of the NFL Draft. Former All-America wide receiver Kenny Britt was the first player in school history to be selected in the first round of the NFL Draft after the Tennessee Titans chose the New Jersey native with the 30th pick in last year's draft.

Davis was the third player in the Schiano era at Rutgers to leave school early and be selected in the NFL Draft.

Pro Bowl running back Ray Rice left Rutgers following his junior season in 2007 and was a second round draft selection of the Baltimore Ravens in the 2008 NFL Draft. Britt declared for the 2009 NFL Draft and was a first round pick of the Tennessee Titans.

During Davis' three-year career "On the Banks," he was named a Second Team All-America selection in 2009 by the Walter Camp Football Foundation, the nation's oldest All-America team. Davis also collected Third Team All-America accolades by the Sporting News following the 2009 season. He was the third Scarlet Knight to earn a spot on the prestigious Walter Camp Football Foundation All-America team. Rice was a two-time Second Team All-America selection by the Walter Camp Football Foundation in 2006 and 2007 while tight end Marco Battaglia was a Walter Camp Football Foundation First Team All-America honoree in 1995.

Davis, a 2009 All-BIG EAST First Team honoree, was named a Freshman All-America in 2007. The Piscataway native started 32 career games for the Scarlet Knights, including 21 of the last 22 contests. He was part of three Scarlet Knight teams that captured bowl championships, starting in all three bowl victories.

McCourty was an Honorable Mention All-America selection in 2009 by Pro Football Weekly. He also earned All-BIG EAST honors for the first time in his career as he was one of the elite playmakers on the BIG EAST's top defensive unit with 80 tackles in 13 starts in 2009. Also an exceptional special teams performer, McCourty blocked three of his seven career kicks and also returned a kickoff 98 yards for a touchdown in the win at Connecticut in 2009.

McCourty was part of five teams that played in bowl games during his career at Rutgers, including victories in the four bowls he appeared in.

For his career, McCourty played in 52 games, including 39 consecutive starts to close out his career. He finished with 238 career tackles, 12 tackles for loss, 2.5 sacks, two forced fumbles and three fumble recoveries. He totaled five interceptions and broke up 27 passes, in addition to blocking seven kicks (six punts, one field goal).

McCourty had a record-breaking night at the 2009 Rutgers Awards Banquet; becoming the first Scarlet Knight in history to earn the Homer Hazel Award (Team MVP) in addition to being named the team's MVP on two units - defense and special teams. He was also the recipient of the Scholar-Athlete award. The Scholar-Athlete Award is presented "to the letterwinner who has the highest academic average and has demonstrated outstanding football ability." McCourty was a semifinalist for the prestigious Draddy Trophy, regarded as the "Academic" Heisman. McCourty owned a 3.309 GPA in Sociology.

2009 SEASON REVIEW

2010 NFL Draft Class

Here is a list of the players from the 2009 squad that have joined the professional ranks:

Anthony Davis, 1st Round, San Francisco 49ers
 Devin McCourty, 1st Round, New England Patriots
 Ryan D'Imperio, 7th Round, Minnesota Vikings
 Tim Brown, Free Agent, New York Giants
 Jack Corcoran, Free Agent, Houston Texans
 Kevin Haslam, Free Agent, Jacksonville Jaguars
 George Johnson, Free Agent, Tampa Bay Buccaneers

Nine-Win Season

Rutgers recorded just the sixth nine-win season in school history with a victory versus UCF in the St. Petersburg Bowl. In 140 years of football at Rutgers, the Scarlet Knights have won at least nine games in a season five other times, including two undefeated seasons (1961 and 1976).

Nine-Win Seasons "On the Banks"

Season	Record	Season	Record
2009	9-4	1976	11-0
2006	11-2	1975	9-2
1978	9-3	1961	9-0

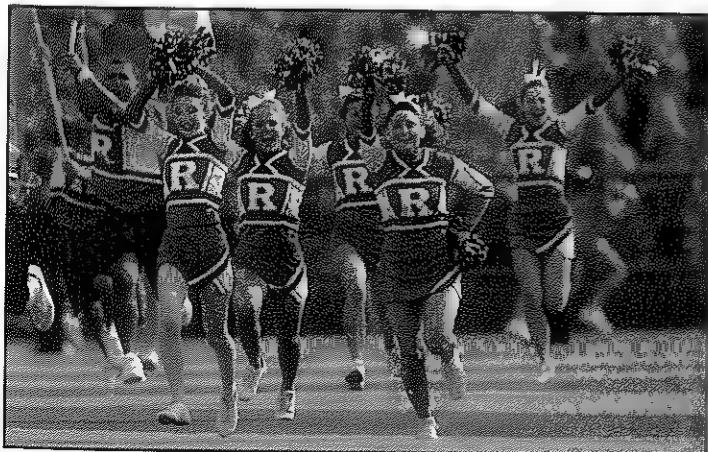

Four Consecutive Eight-Win Campaigns

Rutgers has won at least eight games in each of the last four seasons for just the second time in 140 years of football. The only other time in school history Rutgers won at least eight games in a season in four consecutive years was 1975-1979, when the Scarlet Knights posted five straight eight-win seasons.

Thanks for the Memories

The 2009 senior class (RB Alan Ajemian, DB Billy Anderson, DT Blair Bines, C Ryan Blaszczyk, DB Pat Brown, WR Tim Brown, FB Jack Corcoran, LB Ryan D'Imperio, LS/WR Andrew DePaola, DL Remo Fioranelli, WR Ryan Gluekert, OL Kevin Haslam, DE George Johnson, LB Stephante Kent, DB Zaire Kitchen, QB Jabu Lovelace, DB Devin McCourty, TE Jeff Minemyer, FB Andres Morales, LB Damaso Munoz, QB Domenic Natale, DB Ramy Nubani) tied for the second-most victories for a senior class in school history with 36.

The 22 seniors became the first class in school history to win a bowl game in four consecutive seasons and the fifth-year seniors were the first senior class at Rutgers to reach five straight bowls.

Senior Class Win Totals

1. 1978	37, 1 bowl appearance
2. 1979	36
2009	36, 4 bowl appearances
3. 1977	35
4. 2008	34, 3 bowl appearances
5. 1976	33

Game #100 is in the Win Column

Greg Schiano became the fourth coach in 140 years of Rutgers football to coach at least 100 games for the Scarlet Knights in 2009. John Bateman guided the Scarlet Knights for 13 seasons and has coached the most games in school history - 124.

Schiano's 100th game was a 23-15 victory over Florida International on Sept. 19. The game was also the first for Schiano vs. a former assistant in Mario Cristobal of FIU. Cristobal served on Schiano's staff at Rutgers from 2001-03.

Greg Schiano	55-55	2001-	110

Inside the 100

Greg Schiano has had a remarkable turnaround during his tenure at Rutgers. After starting 15-35 overall in his first 50 games, Schiano is 40-20 in his last 60 games, including five consecutive bowls for the Scarlet Knights.

	Overall	BIG EAST
Games 1-50	15-35	4-24
Games 51-100	33-17	16-12
Games 101-	7-3	3-3
Total	55-55	23-39

The Turnover Story

Rutgers turned the ball over just 14 times in 13 games in 2009. During Greg Schiano's nine-year tenure, the 14 turnovers were the fewest amount for Rutgers for an entire season.

Defensively, the Scarlet Knights gained 34 turnovers on the year. The 34 turnovers rank as the highest season total under Schiano.

2009 SEASON REVIEW

Protecting the Pigskin

Rutgers is +28 in turnover differential over its last 20 games [16-4]. The Scarlet Knights gained 34 turnovers in 2009, including at least one in 12 of the 13 games.

Rutgers finished second in the nation in turnover margin in 2009 (+1.54). In 2009, Rutgers was +20 in turnover differential [34 turnovers, 14 giveaways]. Over the last 20 games, Rutgers has gained a total of 51 turnovers

Touchdown Brown

Senior wide receiver Tim Brown caught the most touchdown passes in school history with 20. He also finished his career fourth in RU history with 2,257 career receiving yards.

Four of Brown's 20 career touchdown receptions were in bowl games, including the first two touchdowns of the game in the 2006 Texas Bowl vs. Kansas State. Labeled the "most dangerous deep threat in the BIG EAST" by Lindy's, Brown was second in school history with nine career 100-yard receiving games.

RICHARD L. McCORMICK

PRESIDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY

Richard L. McCormick is the 19th president of Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey. A scholar of American political history who began his academic career on the Rutgers faculty, he returned as president in 2002 after serving as provost of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and president of the University of Washington.

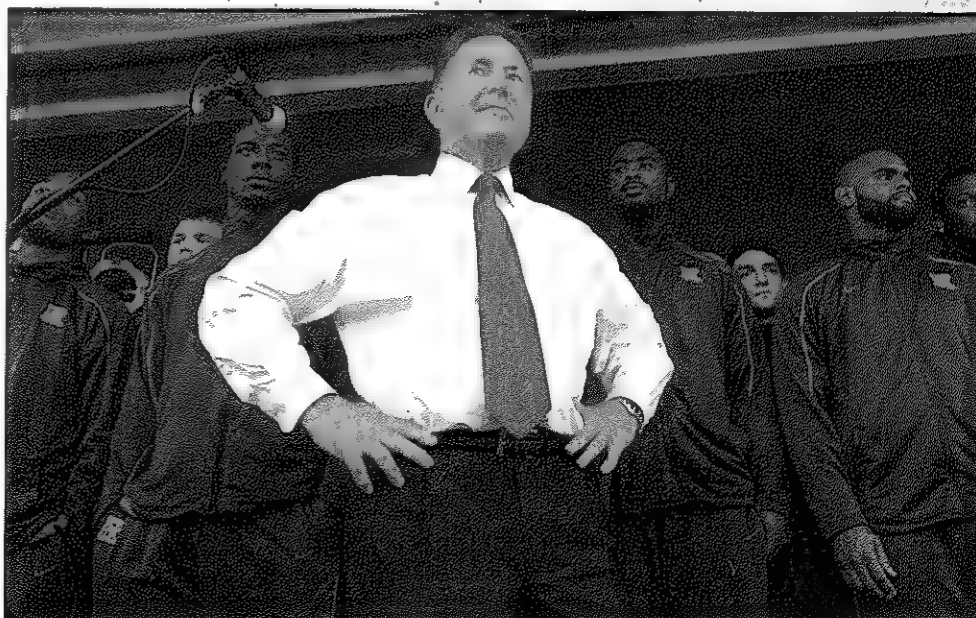

Dr. McCormick's goal is to advance Rutgers within the top tier of American public research universities. His ambitions for the university include an enriched learning experience for every student; teaching and research focused on global human problems; diversity of students, faculty, staff, and programs; and deeper connections with the people of New Jersey.

President McCormick led a major restructuring and reinvigoration of undergraduate education at Rutgers-New Brunswick, the university's largest campus. The plan merged four undergraduate colleges into a School of Arts and Sciences, expanded access to academic programs and learning communities, and established a popular First-Year Seminar program that offers more than 100 courses – each with no more than 20 students – on a wide range of topics taught by top faculty.

Other initiatives undertaken during Dr. McCormick's tenure include:

- * The Rutgers Future Scholars Program, a pilot project to encourage minority and low-income teenagers from the university's host cities to pursue higher education by offering mentorship and college preparation support, and the promise of free tuition to those admitted to Rutgers.
- * Establishment of the first-ever universitywide alumni body, the Rutgers University Alumni Association.
- * Rutgers Against Hunger, an initiative that combines volunteerism, research, education, and donations to address food security in the state of New Jersey.
- * Rutgers-Camden's first-ever doctoral-level academic program, a Ph.D. in childhood studies – the first in the nation in this emerging discipline.
- * Establishment of the School of Public Affairs and Administration, Rutgers-Newark's first new school in more than three decades.

Born in 1947, President McCormick earned a B.A. in American studies from Amherst College in 1969 and a Ph.D. in history from Yale University in 1976. He is married to Joan Barry McCormick, RU '88. THE STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW JERSEY

TIM PERNETTI

DIRECTOR OF INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS

A lifetime New Jersey native with a strong passion for his alma mater, Tim Perneti has come full-circle in becoming one of the nation's youngest leaders in college athletics. A former student-athlete "On the Banks", Perneti was named Rutgers' sixth Director of Intercollegiate Athletics on February 26, 2009. He oversees 24 men's and women's intercollegiate teams in New Brunswick, a larger number than fielded at most of the university's peer institutions.

Perneti has been influential in the world of college athletics since he received a bachelor's degree in journalism and mass media from Rutgers in 1993, and a master's degree in communication in 1995.

Prior to returning to Rutgers, Perneti was the Executive Vice President, Content, for CBS College Sports Network. In that role, he oversaw the rights and relationship business, on-air talent, and all network programming and content on air, online and across all screens for the nation's first company dedicated to college sports.

Perneti helped to build the CBS College Sports Network, previously CSTV, prior to its launch in 2003, and has played a critical role in establishing it as the multi-media leader in college sports programming, content, news and information. He was a recipient of the prestigious Sports Business Journal Forty under Forty Award, and the Multichannel News 40 under 40 Award both in 2008.

Charged with developing relationships, acquiring rights and creating multi-platform original programming for the first ever 24-hour sports college sports network, Perneti successfully navigated through a complicated web of media rights deals to come up with new ways to serve college sports fans. Perneti worked closely with the NCAA and hundreds of schools in every major conference, securing over 2,500 hours of event programming each year and multiple NCAA Championships across 35 men's and women's sports. Perneti was in charge of the CBS College Sports Network exclusive long-term agreements with the US Naval Academy, Mountain West Conference, Conference USA, and the Atlantic 10.

Further, he managed company relationships with more than 30 conferences and thousands of institutions. Perneti remains most proud of establishing a strong relationship in women's collegiate sports including the establishment of a women's basketball game of the week package in 2004 with the BIG EAST Conference.

In 2006, Perneti spearheaded a landmark multi-media partnership with the NCAA to make CBS College Sports Network the home of Division II Sports. The innovative deal effectively increased the scope and reach of NCAA Division II sports with hundreds of games now available nationally via the broadcast network and online.

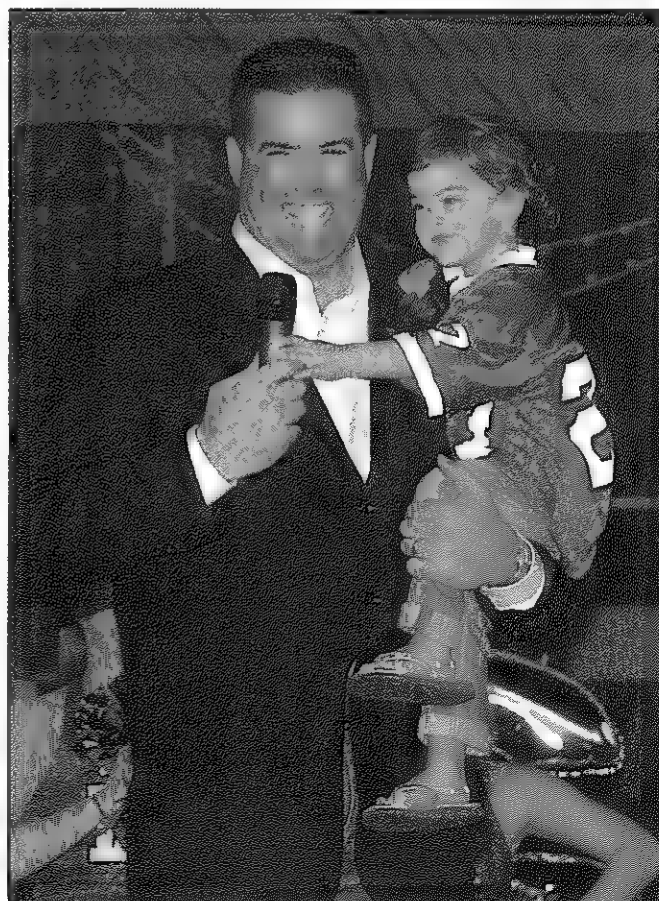

Perneti's commitment to providing greater exposure to women's and under-served sports is evidenced by the network's unprecedented coverage of lacrosse and volleyball, among others. He has also been at the forefront of the development and creation of the Collegiate Nationals, which crowns champions in dozens of high endurance sports, and innovative original production including CBS College Sports Network's groundbreaking NCAA March Madness Central, NCAA March Madness Highlights on CBS College Sports, and the WIRED franchise which gives viewers an inside look at games and events through wireless microphones on coaches during game action.

Prior to joining CBS College Sports Network, Perneti served eight years at ABC-TV and ABC Sports most recently as Director of Programming, where he was integral in acquiring, managing and developing several ABC Sports properties including college football, the Bowl Championship Series, and college basketball. For five years, Perneti handled relationships and negotiated television rights with all of the major collegiate conferences.

As a student at Rutgers, Perneti was a four-year letterwinner at tight end on the Rutgers football squad. He was also the color commentator for Rutgers Football on the Rutgers Football Radio Network and announced weekly NFL games nationally on Sports USA Radio.

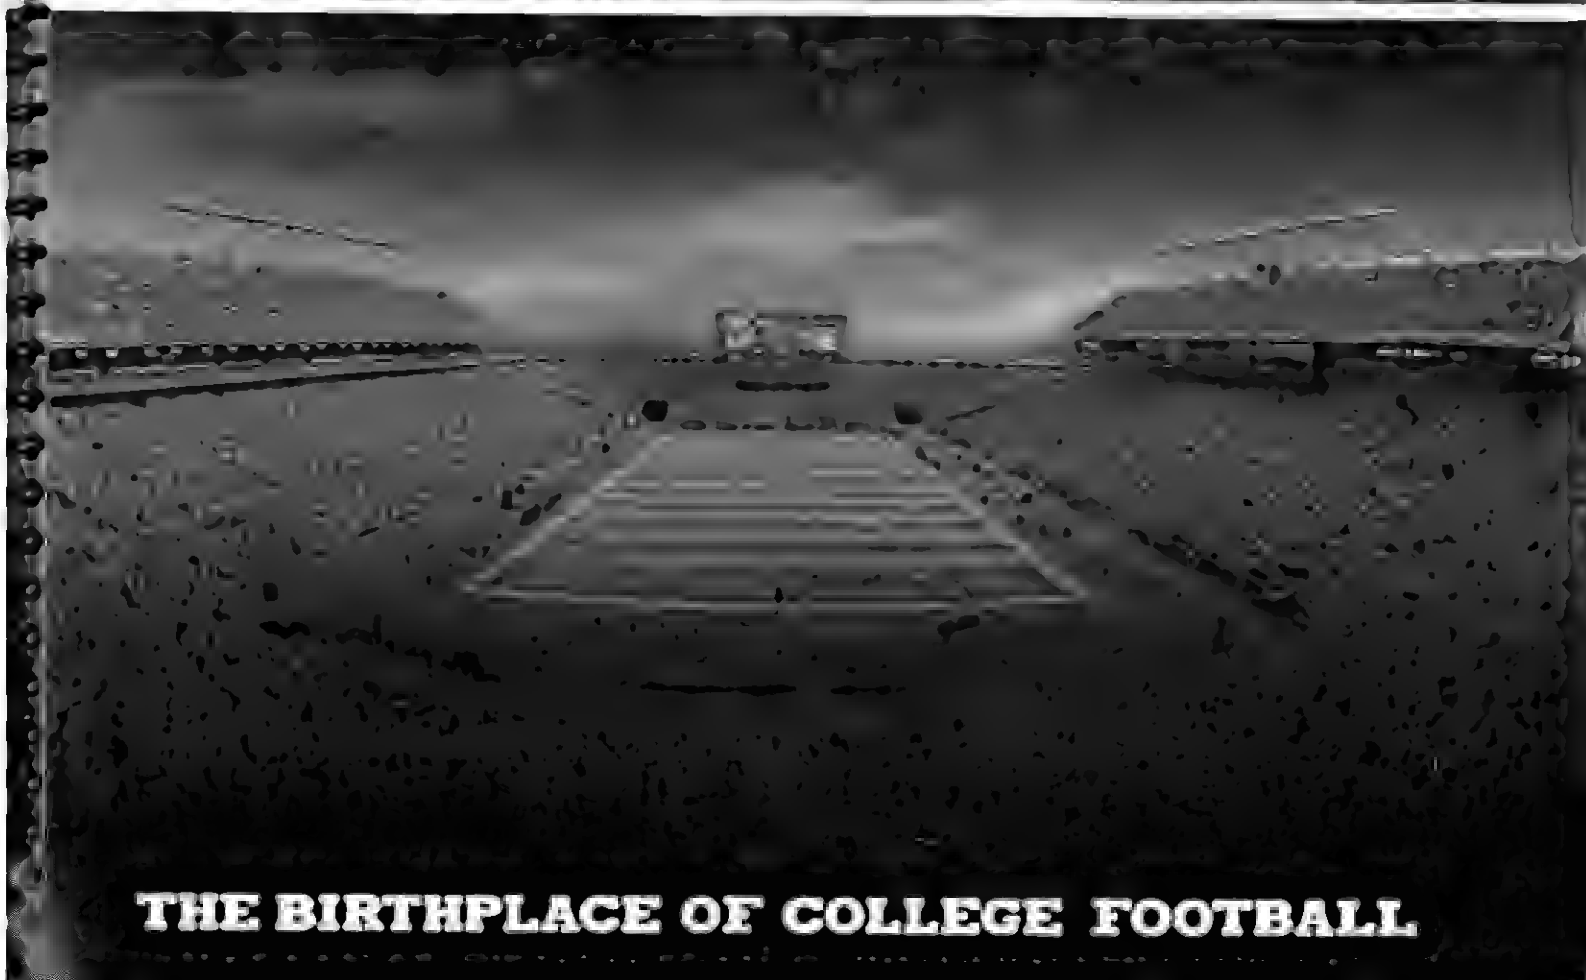

A resident of Oakland, N.J., Perneti is married to the former Danielle Bahto. His wife also graduated from Rutgers and was a letterwinner on the women's lacrosse team. Danielle and Tim are the proud parents of their three children - Max, Conor and Netaile.

"Old" Rutgers Stadium

Dedicated on November 5, 1938 at the Rutgers-Princeton game, the Stadium had its first game two weeks earlier as Rutgers hosted Hampden-Sydney. The season finale against Lafayette was the third game in the Stadium. Rutgers won all three contests and did not lose at the site until the sixth game in 1940, a 7-6 loss to Lafayette. Rutgers won the first 13 Stadium games, including seven straight in 1939.

HISTORY & TRADITION

THE BIRTHPLACE OF COLLEGE FOOTBALL

THE FIRST FOOTBALL GAME

Rutgers and Princeton played the first game of intercollegiate football on Nov. 6, 1869, on a plot of ground where the present-day Rutgers gymnasium now stands in New Brunswick, N.J. Rutgers won that first game, 6-4.

The game was played with two teams of 25 men each under rugby-like rules, but like modern football, it was "replete with surprise, strategy, prodigies of determination and physical prowess," to use the words of one of the Rutgers players.

At 3 p.m. on that memorable afternoon, the 50 competitors and about 100 spectators gathered on the field. To distinguish themselves from the bareheaded visitors, 50 Rutgers students, including players, donned scarlet-colored scarves which they converted into turbans.

Events leading up to the game were described by John W. Herbert, Rutgers '72, who was one of the players: "To appreciate this game to the fullest you must know something of its background," Herbert wrote in 1933. "The two colleges were, and still are, of course, about 20 miles apart. The rivalry between them was intense. For years each had striven for possession of an old Revolutionary cannon, making night forays and lugging it back and forth time and again. Not long before the first football game, the canny Princetonians had settled this competition in their own favor by ignominiously sinking the gun in several feet of concrete. In addition to this, I regret to report, Princeton had beaten Rutgers in baseball by the harrowing score of 40-2. Rutgers longed for a chance to square things."

A challenge for the game was issued by Rutgers. Three games were to be played that year. The first, played at New Brunswick, was won by Rutgers. Princeton won the second game, but cries of "over-emphasis" prevented the third game in football's first year when faculties of both institutions protested on the grounds that the games were interfering with student studies.

An analytical account of the game appeared in the November, 1869 issue of the Targum, Rutgers' undergraduate newspaper.

"To describe the varying fortunes of the match, game by game, would be a waste of labor for every game was like the one before," wrote the student reporter. "There was the same headlong running, wild shouting, and frantic kicking."

"To sum up, Princeton had the most muscle, but didn't kick very well, and wanted organization. They evidently don't like to kick the ball on the ground. Our men, on the other hand, though comparatively weak, ran well, and kicked well throughout. But their great point was the organization, for which great praise is due to the captain. The right men were always in the right place."

One of the Princeton players, William Preston Lane, in 1933 contended in a newspaper interview that Rutgers "ran us Princeton men out of town. I never found out why they did that," he related. "But we don't ask any questions. When we saw them coming after us, we ran to the outskirts of New Brunswick and got into our carriages and wagons and went away as fast as we could."

Lane's contention is refuted in the Targum account. "After the match the players had an amicable 'feed together,'" the paper reported. "At 8 o'clock our guests went home, in high good spirits, thirsting to beat us next time, if they can."

Regardless of what actually happened after the first game, football was here to stay. Rutgers got Columbia University started in the grid sport the following season and in a few years most of the colleges and universities in the East were represented on the gridiron.

RUTGERS FOOTBALL 2010

THE BIRTHPLACE OF COLLEGE FOOTBALL

The following is excerpted from an article that was written by John Bruns, former long-time sports writer for the Home News, and current sports writer for the Easton Times-Express.

When Rutgers defeated Princeton in the first intercollegiate football game ever played in 1869, the setting was quite different than it is today. The game was contested on a field along College Avenue in New Brunswick. There weren't tens of thousands of cheering fans in a multi-million dollar stadium. There was no manicured grass field or electronic scoreboard. There was no elaborate athletic equipment or television cameras. But on that fall day in 1869, those students established a tradition of quality football programs, competitiveness and school spirit that continues at Rutgers, the birthplace of intercollegiate football.

Rutgers won six of 10 games in 1882, but played only one game in 1885. Similarly, the Scarlet Knights went 8-6 in 1891, but two years later played only four games. By the early 1900's, scheduling had become more consistent and football became more popular across the country.

The eight wins of 1891 weren't matched until Rutgers went 8-1 in 1947 with one of the most successful teams of coach Harvey Harman in the Golden Era immediately following World War II. That team, quarterbacked by Frank Burns, who would later become Rutgers' most successful coach, lost its opener to Columbia and then swept through eight straight opponents.

In 1913, coach George Foster Sanford began a tradition of success among Rutgers coaches in their inaugural year by leading his team to a 6-3 mark. He then flirted with two perfect seasons, improving the team to 7-1 in 1915 and 7-1-1 in 1917. Those two seasons, which featured All-American Paul Robeson, were among Rutgers' best.

Sanford, a member of Rutgers' Hall of Fame, also helped to introduce Rutgers to the New York metropolitan area, playing games at the Polo Grounds against teams like Notre Dame, Nebraska, Louisiana State and West Virginia. A few years later, in 1924, two-time All-American end and fullback Homer Hazel helped coach John Wallace continue the tradition of first-year coaching success, as Rutgers posted a 7-1-1 mark.

Harvey Harman also had a successful first season, going 7-1 in 1938, the year Rutgers dedicated the original Rutgers Stadium. Rutgers won the dedication game, 20-18, over Princeton. Harman, however, was replaced by former coach Harry Rockafeller during World War II. His tenure included an 8-1 season in 1947 when Rutgers, dominated by WWII veterans, registered a combined record of 27-7 from 1945-48.

When John Stiegman coached Rutgers from 1956-59, he brought back the single-wing formation to the Scarlet Knight offense, and led Rutgers to an 8-1 mark in 1958. The only loss of that season, 13-12 to the Quantico Marines, came when All-American tailback Billy Austin had to miss a game due to a broken hand.

Another first-year coach got off to an impressive start when John Bateman went 8-1 in 1960. That campaign was followed by Rutgers' first undefeated season in 1961, when the team went 9-0, capping the season with a fourth-quarter, 25-point comeback win over Columbia. That team included All-American center Alex Kroll, and was ranked 15th nationally. In his 11 seasons, Bateman led Rutgers to 73 wins in 124 games.

In 1973, Frank Burns took the reins of Rutgers football and became the most successful Rutgers coach ever by building teams recognized for fundamentals and defense. Burns himself was also known as a fierce linebacker and won the Most Valuable Player Award in the 1949 College All-Star game, when he made 17 tackles against the New York Giants. The Burns defenses were led by linebackers Ed Steward, Jim Hughes, Jim Dumont and defensive end Nate Toran. Burns' first team went 6-5, while running back "JJ" Jennings set single-season records for rushing yardage (1,353) and touchdowns (21) that still stand.

Over the next five seasons, Burns' teams won at least seven games each season, including a five-season stretch from 1975-79 when Rutgers' winning percentage was .803 with a record of 45-11. The jewel in the crown of Burns' tenure as Rutgers' coach was the 1976 season, when the team was perfect at 11-0, establishing the best season ever at Rutgers. During Burns' 11 seasons at Rutgers, the Scarlet Knights won nearly two-thirds of their games (78-44). He also took Rutgers to its first bowl appearance, the Garden State Bowl, at Giants Stadium against Arizona State in 1978.

Doubtless, the biggest win of the Burns era was the 13-7 upset of Tennessee on November 3, 1979 at Knoxville. Burns called it "the greatest of my coaching career."

The following year, 1980, Rutgers had one of its great "near-misses" of its long history when the Scarlet bowed, 17-13, to a highly-favored and No. 1-ranked Alabama team coached by Bear Bryant at Giants Stadium. In a post game comment, Bear Bryant said, "We didn't beat Rutgers. All I can say is we won."

In 1984 when Dick Anderson was named head coach, a renewed commitment to football at Rutgers was backed by a $3 million state-funded package. Those funds helped finance the artificial surface practice fields, the practice "Bubble" and the Hale Center, which includes lockerrooms, offices, a weight-training area and medical facilities for the football team.

Anderson won seven of 10 games in his inaugural season and his teams produced some of the most exciting players in Rutgers history, including record-breaking passer Scott Erney, career tackles leader Tyrone Stowe and career kickoff return leader Eric Young.

Doug Graber became the Scarlet Knights' 23rd coach in 1990 and placed an emphasis on recruiting the best talent in the state of New Jersey. His first recruiting class included three first-team All-State selections and two second-team All-State selections among the 12 recruits from New Jersey.

Another major boost for Rutgers came in 1991 when it joined the BIG EAST Football Conference. The team went 13-9 in its first two years in the BIG EAST, including a 4-2 BIG EAST mark in 1992, before slipping to 4-7 the following season.

The 1994 season celebrated not only the 125 years of college football, but also the return of the newly-renovated and expanded Rutgers Stadium.

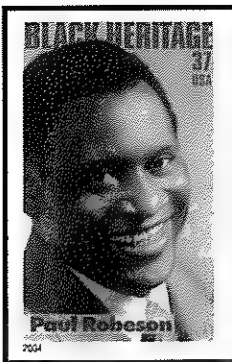

A new stadium has been quite a different setting than that of the first college football game played over 130 years ago. The Scarlet Knights are playing for their own place in history as they continue the college football tradition that was born "On the Banks of the Old Raritan." After a less than stellar run through the mid-1990's under 1998 BIG EAST coach of the year Terry Shea, the Scarlet Knights opted to take the program in a different direction.

On December 1, 2000, then Director of Athletics Bob Mulcahy introduced the newest coach in the storied history of Rutgers Football - Greg Schiano.

Under Schiano's leadership, "it's time" for Rutgers Football to regain the nation's attention.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

PAUL ROBESON

Paul Robeson played four years for the famous coach, G. Foster Sanford. Rutgers had a 22-6-3 record in that time. In 31 games, Rutgers scored 941 points to opponents' 191. Robeson was a powerful contributor to that record.... Robeson was a two-time All-America end. Frank Menke named him All-America in 1917 and 1918. Walter Camp picked him in 1918. (Camp did not name an All-America team in 1917.) Following college, Robeson played three years as a pro - 1920 with Hammond, 1921 with Akron and 1922 with Milwaukee - in the American Professional Football League....

He obtained his law degree in 1923. At Rutgers, Robeson was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and was valedictorian of the class of 1919. He won the college oratorical contest four straight years and gave the commencement address at graduation. Robeson won 12 letters in four sports - four in football, three each in basketball and baseball, and two in track. He stood 6-3 in height and his weight was listed at 181 in early years, at 215 his senior season. This man of many talents became an actor, singer and lecturer. He was on Broadway and in the movies. His rich basso made his signature song "O! Man River" a classic. He starred in plays, such as "The Emperor Jones," "Othello," "Showboat," as well as many others, in the U.S., Europe and Africa. In 1925 he made a recording that sold 55,000 copies in four months. In 1972 he received the Whitney Young Memorial Award. Ebony Magazine called him "one of the 10 most important black men in American history."...

Paul Robeson was born April 9, 1898, in Princeton, N.J. His father, Rev. William Robeson, had escaped slavery in 1860 in North Carolina at age 15. His mother, Maria Bustill, was a teacher. When Paul was a high school senior, he won the statewide academic test and received a scholarship to Rutgers. In 1915 he was the third black to enter Rutgers and the first to play football. He died January 23, 1976.

A true renaissance man, Robeson won 12 letters in four sports at Rutgers - four in football, three each in basketball and baseball, and two in track. After his tenure at Rutgers, he became an accomplished actor, singer and lecturer, and was recently commemorated on a US postal stamp.

ALEX KROLL

Alex Kroll, a consensus All-American center on Rutgers' first undefeated football team in 1961, is the Scarlet Knights' sixth inductee into the College Football Hall of Fame, as a part of the Class of 1997.

Kroll followed end Paul Robeson, halfback Homer Hazel and coaches George Foster Sanford and Harvey Harman into this most cherished of college football's honors. Former athletic director George Little is also among the all-time honorees.

Kroll, a 6-2, 228-pound center and linebacker, was a major force in Rutgers' compiling a 17-1 record in his two years of play "On the Banks." In 1960, the Knights under coach John Bateman were 8-1 and followed up with the school's first undefeated campaign, going 9-0 in 1961. Team captain of the lauded 1961 squad, Kroll was a two-time first-team All-ECAC choice and won first-team All-American honors from Associated Press, United Press International, Newspaper Enterprise Association, Look, and the American Football Coaches Association. Known as a "coach on the field," he was credited with making the quarterback sneak an offensive weapon as Rutgers scored seven TDs on that play in 1961 with Kroll clearing the way into the endzone for the signal-caller.

He was also a first-team All-East choice by the AP in 1961 and played in the North-South game and the Senior Bowl. In 1960, he was an honorable mention All-American. Following his senior season, he was a second-round draft pick of the New York Titans, playing for one season in 1962.

Kroll earned a BA in English Literature in 1962 and was a Henry Rutgers Scholar with a perfect grade point average in his major. He received a National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame Post-Graduate Scholarship in 1961. In 1986, he was awarded the Silver Anniversary Award from the National Collegiate Athletic Association for his collegiate achievements.

Immediately following his last game with the Titans, he joined the workforce at Young & Rubicam, the world's largest independent advertising agency, as a copywriter. After a succession of writing and supervisory jobs in the creative department, he was named executive vice president and worldwide creative director in 1970. He was named president and chief operating officer in 1982 and, four years later, Kroll became chairman of Young & Rubicam. He is retired but still serves as Chairman Emeritus of Young & Rubicam. He resides in Charlotte, VT, with his wife, Phyllis. They have three children.

HARVEY HARMAN

Few men loved the game with the fervor of Harvey Harman, a huge man with a grand smile and a fierce dedication to the sport.

A former president of the American Football Coaches Association, Harman received that group's Amos Alonzo Stagg Award, symbolic of outstanding service to the profession. It was not surprising that Harman achieved such acclaim, for he learned his football lessons from two of the game's mentors - Glenn "Pop" Warner and Jock Sutherland - while at Pittsburgh. Harman was a starting tackle for the Panthers before taking his first coaching assignment at Haverford. From there he moved on to Sewanee [the University of the South], Pennsylvania and Rutgers.

It was at Rutgers that he had his greatest success, directing the Scarlet Knights to a 26-7-1 record before interrupting his career to serve in the U.S. Navy during World War II.

Harman returned to Rutgers after the war and led the Scarlet Knights for another 10 seasons before accepting a position as Executive Director of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame, Inc. In that capacity, Harman became known as the goodwill ambassador for football, continuing to serve the game until his death in 1989. His career record lists a slate of 140-104-7.

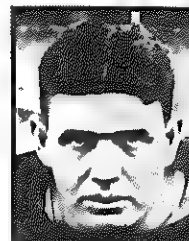

HOMER HAZEL

He parted his dark hair down the middle, in the fashion of the day, and his deep-set eyes glowed with a competitive fire. Homer Hazel, Rutgers' first Hall of Famer, was, without doubt, the most versatile player the Scarlet ever produced.

A natural athlete, Hazel excelled in various sports and was most successful as a track and field star. His speed and quickness served him well, for he once recovered his own kickoff in the enemy end zone for a touchdown.

Homer led Rutgers to identical 7-1-1 records in his final two seasons, earning All-America laurels in each. He was an end in 1923, when the only Scarlet loss was to West Virginia (27-7). He had Rutgers on the way to an unbeaten finish in 1924 - this time as a hard-hitting fullback - when Bucknell untracked the Scarlet in the final game of the season, 12-7. During the 1924 campaign, Homer Hazel established school records for most points after a touchdown and longest completed pass.

He could do it all. Carrying 226 pounds over a 5-foot-11 frame, Homer lettered in football, basketball, baseball and track at Rutgers. He later served as Athletic Director, football and basketball coach at the University of Mississippi for more than five years. He was a golf pro for four years, and a labor relations manager for more than 20 years. Hazel won his first letter in football at Rutgers in 1916. He left school because of a lack of funds. Hazel worked at various jobs and, at age 28, played football again at Rutgers. Walter Camp named him All-America end in 1923, All-America fullback in 1924. Hazel was born June 2, 1895, and died February 3, 1968.

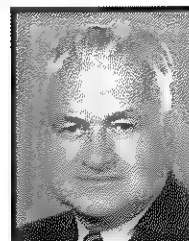

GEORGE LITTLE

A graduate of Ohio Wesleyan, George Little opened his coaching career at the University of Cincinnati and produced a two-year record of 10-8-0 before moving up the road to Oxford, Ohio, home of the Miami Redskins, in 1916. There, Little brought the Redskins their first Conference Championship and a 7-0-1 mark.

After service in World War I, Little returned to Miami and directed the Red and White to yet another league crown and a three-year post-war record of 20-3-1. He also coached the Miami basketball and track teams, claiming a conference crown in the latter sport.

The 1922 and 1923 seasons found Little at Michigan under head coach Fielding Yost, the man he replaced in 1924. That year, Little's Wolverines were 6-2. The next season, Little was in Wisconsin as the new Athletic Director and head coach of the Badgers, and he led his charges to a two-year mark of 11-3-2. His teams displayed imagination and strength on offense, a unique ruggedness on defense.

Little wound up his collegiate career as the Athletic Director at Rutgers, and then served as executive secretary of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

GEORGE FOSTER SANFORD

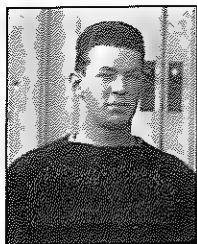

At the entrance to Rutgers Stadium, inscribed upon a bronze plaque, is a tribute to George Sanford. It was financed and installed by his players, the men "...he inspired to deeds beyond themselves."

Undoubtedly, Sanford was an inspirational leader of men, a gentleman who excelled as both player and coach. Sanford played center on the 1891 and 1892 Yale teams which held each of their 25 opponents scoreless. Though he was never chosen to an All-American team, a 1927 poll named him the all-time Yale center.

Sanford began his coaching career at Columbia (1899-1901), called in to revive the football program which had been abandoned after the 1891 campaign. His 1899 team defeated Yale for the first time ever, and it was at Columbia that Sanford developed the famous "Flying Hurdle Play" which saw Harold Weekes catapulted over the scrimmage line. Moving to Rutgers (1913-23), Sanford had marked success as his club rolled to a 56-32-5 record. He was hailed as a "miracle worker" in 1917, after his Rutgers team beat the heavily-favored Newport Naval Reserve All-Stars, 14-0. Between his teams at Columbia and Rutgers, Sanford devoted his energy toward a successful insurance brokerage business.

RUTGERS STADIUM

The following excerpt came from the game program of the first game played in the "New" Rutgers Stadium, on September 3, 1994. Written by former Sports Information Director Bob Smith, this story chronicles the history of Rutgers Football and the stadium(s) it called home.

Far removed from midwestern corn fields where Hollywood created a baseball dream, Rutgers realized a football dream when the new Rutgers Stadium opened for the 1994 season.

The completion of the stadium, expanded to accommodate 41,500 fans, coincided neatly with the celebration of the 125th year of the game which, Rutgers and Princeton inaugurated in 1869.

The new stadium, financed by a New Jersey Sports and Exposition Authority bond issue proposal, which was approved by the legislature and then Governor Jim Florio in January of 1992, was kicked off officially on March 9, 1993.

The historic groundbreaking ceremony drew over 500 as a host of state dignitaries spoke glowingly of the meaning for the University and the state. The stadium project would include expansion to nearly 42,000 seats with all the amenities of a first-class facility. Permanent lights, lit to a level of 150 foot-candles, will make possible night games and television broadcast. A two-tiered press box seats over 200. The main concourse includes eight concession stands and the stadium will be equipped with a state-of-the-art sound system. A huge, new scoreboard towers over the south endzone.

At the groundbreaking ceremony, then-governor Jim Florio said "there is no doubt that what is good for Rutgers is good for New Jersey."

Rutgers president Francis L. Lawrence noted that "this grand old stadium...has been of great service to the people of New Jersey and this new project will provide 800 jobs in New Jersey. New Jersey is a great state that deserves the best in every aspect, in every area, including athletics." Athletic Director Fred Gruninger called the event a "real happening."

One hundred and twenty-five years ago on November 6, 1869, Rutgers and Princeton played the first intercollegiate football game in New Brunswick on College Field, which is now the site of the College Avenue Gymnasium and its parking lot. And, while Rutgers won that initial contest, 6-4, Princeton would dominate the early days of this intrastate rivalry.

The Tigers won the second game at home a week later and went on to win the next 24 games through 1897, holding the Scarlet Knights scoreless in 22 of the 25 victories. Getting together again in 1911, Princeton added five more wins before the series lapsed in 1915. A leap of 18 years, a tumultuous time in this country's history, elapsed before the next meeting, but the pattern did not change as Princeton took the 1933, 1935, 1936 and 1937 games, all on its home grounds, as were all but six of the 34 games.

Those six games had been played at the site of the original game, College Field, where contests were staged through 1891, after which Neilson Field became the home of the Scarlet until 1938.

The stage was set for "the game that would live forever" (according to Jimmie Fleming, sports editor of the New Brunswick Home News) and a game that a New York news commentator rated one of the four principal historical events of 1938, along with the dismemberment of Czechoslovakia, the Munich agreement and the wars in China and Spain. But, the story began a few years earlier.

Through the presidency of John Martin Thomas (1925-30) and the brief 18-month tenure of Philip Milledoler Brett, Rutgers experienced a severe identity crisis. "For a quarter of a century," wrote historian Richard P. McCormick, "Rutgers had been in the throes of transformation from a small college to a multi-dimensional university, from an essentially private institution to an instrumentality of the state." That drama would continue even while the athletic picture began to improve. It would play itself out against a background generally called the Great Depression.

Robert C. Clothier was named president in December, 1931, and George E. Little became the athletic director in April, 1932. It is with these two visionaries that the story of Rutgers Stadium begins.

Both saw that the effectiveness of the instruction in physical education was being seriously hampered by lack of space and deteriorating facilities. Neilson Field, the football home site that had replaced College Field and the home of the Rutgers football since 1892, was in disrepair. Though indoor facilities were sufficient (College Avenue Gymnasium was completed in January 1932 and held athletic contests as well as a concert by Paul Robeson [19] but if the overall program was to be strengthened, space had to be found.

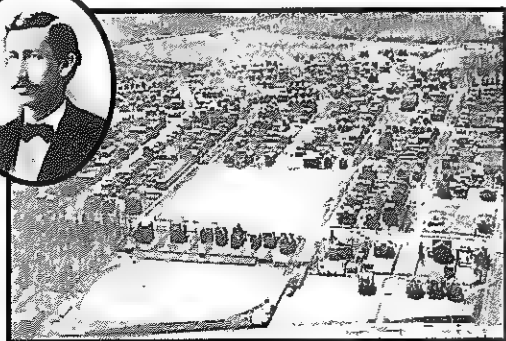

Feeling that the University had weathered the initial phases of the Depression, Clothier dispatched Little on a survey of suitable land and on November 7, 1934, the determined athletic director recommended the purchase of a tract of land covering 256 acres across the Raritan River that included the dis-banded New Brunswick Country Club golf course and the Adrian Vermeule properties. The Board of Trustees, noting that it was a daring move, nevertheless adopted the proposal and bought the land for less than $100,000.

Though the stadium area, a natural ravine, was included in the purchase, the original proposal did not include construction of a stadium. The development of the area would provide recreational areas for students and considerable acreage for future needs. The Federal government approved an initial grant of $320,000 on November 13, 1935, and work men began the enormous job of developing the River Road campus. The project was to carry a cost of $418,514 with the University contributing $98,390. It would provide work for 387 workers for one year.

A year later, November, 1936, a second Works Progress Administration grant of $143,841 was approved with Rutgers adding $107,530. In January, 1938, an additional grant of $237,000 was made by the WPA which brought the total of the three grants to $995,707 while Rutgers had appropriated $239,000, including the cost of the site.

All this played out against the background of the Depression. Franklin D. Roosevelt's Second New Deal had created the Works Progress Administration, a massive relief program that derived from the administration's belief that "human dignity was diminished under direct relief programs but enriched by programs that provided work in exchange for relief."

Though controversial, the WPA program was far more comprehensive than earlier relief efforts. The program would spend more than $411 billion before it was canceled in 1943. According to historian Edward Ellis, the WPA, employing more than 8.5 million people on nearly a million and a half projects, "built 651,087 miles of highways, roads and streets; constructed, repaired or improved 124,031 bridges; erected 124,110 public buildings; created 8,192 public parks; built or improved 853 airports."

RUTGERS STADIUM

The "big mud hole," after three years of construction and an even longer period of research and planning, was a transformed marvel. The Class of 1939, dubbed "The Stadium Class," would honor Little by dedicating its yearbook to him. The dedication reads, in part, "We acclaim all that George Little has done - Sponsored large-scale intramurals to provide 'athletics for all' - conceived and developed a vast athletic plant, traveled, dreamed, and fought for Rutgers thoughtful creative impulsive dynamic generous - bubbling over with ideas and enthusiasm - unflagging in labor and effort - a champion of progress."

A plaque in Little's honor would later adorn the stadium entrance beneath the press box.

The 1938 season would open not only with a new stadium but also with a new coach. Upon the resignation of J. Wilder Tasker, who had been the head coach since 1931, Harvey Harman took over the reins. Arriving from the University of Pennsylvania, one of his first efforts, in concert with President Clothier and athletic director Little, was to have Princeton agree to shift the game from Palmer Stadium. The Tigers had not visited the Rutgers campus since 1888 and a span of 17 games, but they agreed to make the short trip on November 5, the seventh game of the season for the Scarlet.

The Rutgers-Princeton clash would come one day short of the 69 years since the historic first intercollegiate game between the teams. It would fall also on Harman's 38th birthday.

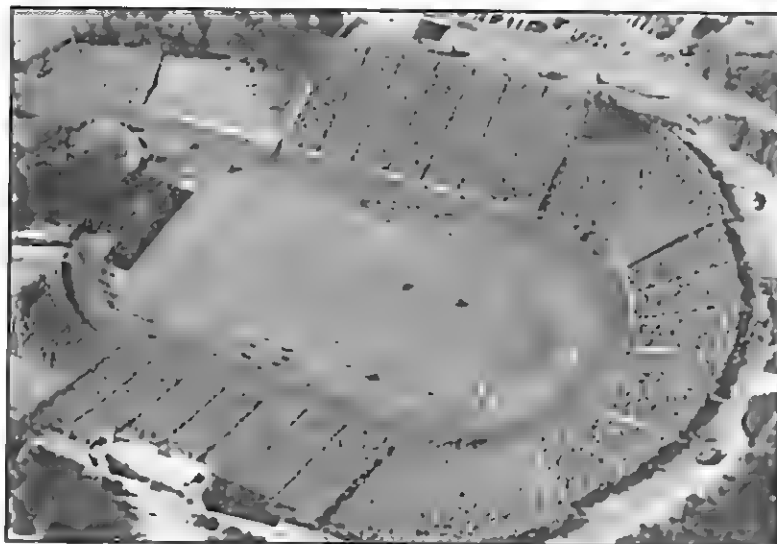

Rutgers opened the season with four games on Nelson Field defeating Manetta (20-0) and Vermont (15-14) before losing to NYU (25-6) and then edging Springfield 6-0. The first game in the new stadium was against Hampden-Sydney before an estimated crowd of 10,000. Rutgers took an early 7-0 lead on a Burt Hesbrouck two-yard run and Len Cooke added the extra point for the first scores in the stadium. The game's most exciting play came after the Scarlet took a 26-0 halftime lead. Art Gottlieb hit Moon Mullen on a short pass at the Rutgers 43-yard line and the senior end raced 57 yards for the game's final score. A Hampden-Sydney threat was turned away on a Gottlieb interception in the Scarlet end zone at the end of the third period and the final score was Rutgers 32, Hampden-Sydney 0.

At halftime of the Dedication game, Judge George H. Lane, the sole Rutgers survivor of the first contest in 1869, would be honored. On a sad note, William Preston Lane, the only Princeton survivor of the first game, passed away that very morning.

The first-half play, before a crowd of 22,500, had been as masterful as the words. But, in the half-time dressing room, the Scarlet squad, at an 18-13 deficit, wondered if the 69-year-old jinx would continue to hold. One writer's account of the game imagined that "Over them hung the most grotesque hoodoo in the history of football."

Down 18-7, Rutgers stormed back as Herm Greif, who had worked on the WPA crew three years before, replaced Gottlieb and quickly completed a pass to Joe Varju who was tackled at the Princeton one-yard line with just 59 seconds remaining in the half. After three passes, Greif ran for the score to bring the Scarlet to within five points at halftime.

The day deserved a storybook ending and that was to follow. Princeton penetrated to the Rutgers 15-yard line in the third period but the drive was stopped by the Scarlet. The game's golden moment came with five minutes remaining. Rutgers center Doug Hotchkiss recovered a Princeton fumble at the Tiger 12. But, in two plays, Rutgers had lost 10 yards. Gottlieb and Tranavitch combined on a nine-yard pass completion and, on fourth down, Gottlieb found Mullen at the goal line for the go-ahead score. The extra point by Walt Bruyere was good, Rutgers had taken a 20-18 lead.

The ensuing Princeton possession saw the Tigers take to the air, but Mullen shut down the drive at the Rutgers 30 with an interception. That left time for only a last line plunge and the game was over, the hex was gone. Rutgers had defeated Princeton for the first time in 69 years.

The 1938 Dedication game was certainly of storybook stature, but there have been many more that rival that first contest.

None more so, perhaps, than that on another Princeton visit. Never has there been such preparation for a game in Rutgers Stadium that there was for the Centennial contest in 1969. All the elements of great sports drama were there - proclamations were issued, a special commemorative stamp was issued, a re-enactment of the first game drew 10,000 fans, pennants from some 350 football-playing colleges waved above the stands, an unscheduled protest march by Afro-Americans, introductions of celebrities, including the oldest living Rutgers football captain, William VB Van Dyck and Master of Ceremonies Ozzie Nelson, the coin toss or rather the three coin tosses, first with a 1869 silver dollar and then with a pair of Centennial medallions.

The game would be the first Rutgers home football contest ever televised as Chris Schenkel and Bud Wilkinson manned the ABC booth. A crowd of 31,000 was on hand for the game, the largest in Scarlet history to that point, and later eclipsed only by the 31,219 for the Rutgers-Temple game in 1988, a Homecoming affair.

Princeton provided the game's opening salvo as Robinson Bordley returned the kickoff 63 yards to the Scarlet 24-yard line. Rutgers successfully repulsed the attack. Both teams missed field goal tries, but, after an interference call at midfield, Rutgers took a 7-0 lead on Rich Policastro's rollout and Chris Stewart's PAT near the end of the first period. The Scarlet upped the lead to 21-0 by halftime on a Bruce Van Ness TD and Bob Stonebraker's reception from Policastro.

Rutgers scored again on a 27-yard Mike Yanceff-to-Joe Barone pass, and, because the goal posts had already been dismantled, the Scarlet scored on a two-point conversion by Yanceff. The 29 points were the highest ever recorded by a Rutgers team against Princeton. The victory was Rutgers 10th in the 60-game series. The teams would go into their second centuries, once again having made football history.

RUTGERS ATHLETIC COMMUNICATIONS

The Rutgers Athletic Communications Office is available to assist you with coverage of the Rutgers football program. The primary media contact for the Rutgers football program is Jason Baum while Doug Drabik and Hasim Phillips will assist during the 2010 season.

The Athletic Communications Office is located in the Louis Brown Athletic Center. For information regarding credentials, interviews, statistics, press conferences, etc., please call the Athletic Communications Office at 732-445-4200, visit CollegePressBox.com or e-mail Baum at jbaum@scarletknights.com.

To assist in your coverage throughout the year, please read the media information on this page. Briefly, all interviews must be arranged through the Athletic Communications Office at least one day in advance and all players, coaches and support staff will not take part in an interview unless scheduled by the Athletic Communications Office.

MEDIA CREDENTIALS

Rutgers will utilize an online credentialing system in 2010. For more information, visit www.sportssystem.com/rutgers or contact Kathy Larrabee in the Athletic Communications Office at 732-445-4200.

Admittance to the Rutgers Stadium Press Box is limited to working media members only. Credential requests must be made through Rutgers' online credentialing system.

Please request credentials at least two weeks in advance of the game to permit sufficient time for mailing. Media credentials which cannot be mailed will be left at Media Will Call (Media Entrance) beneath the press box at Rutgers Stadium at Gate A.

Working space in the Rutgers Press Box is allotted on the following basis: (1) daily newspaper writers covering for next-day publication; (2) sports editors of newspapers in New Jersey, New York and Eastern Pennsylvania; (3) radio personnel for broadcast originations; (4) official school student daily newspaper; (5) approved special coverage; (6) press and TV working photographers; (7) weekly press representatives; non-originating radio representatives of AM news stations; and Internet writers for sites affiliated with established, nationally-recognized media outlets will be considered on a game-by-game basis as space permits. Visiting freelance and amateur photographers are not eligible for media credentials.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Sideline photographers and media members must follow NCAA guidelines, which prohibit entry to the bench areas.

PARKING

Parking is located next to the Bubble in the Green Lot, across the street from Rutgers Stadium. You should request your parking at the same time you request your game credential. If time permits, both will be mailed to you. There is no day-of-game media parking list and therefore members of the media must have a media parking credential in advance of the game.

PRESS BOX SERVICES

Complete NCAA statistics, play-by-play, and quote sheets from both teams are all regular services on game day. Upon your arrival, you will receive a press folder with game program, flip card, updated stats and game day notes.

The Rutgers Stadium press box has wireless internet access. Login information will be provided on gamedays.

POST-GAME INTERVIEWS

Coach Schiano and players, following the designated cooling off period, will be made available after each game to members of the media. Coach Schiano's press conference will take place in the team meeting room of the Hale Center, which is located opposite the playing field from the press box.

With approximately five minutes remaining in the game, members of the media will be escorted across the field towards the Hale Center.

Rutgers' locker room is open to the media following the cooling off period.

The visiting team's press conference will be held in the field hockey locker room, inside the Hale Center.

PHONES

A limited number of courtesy phones are available in the press box at Rutgers Stadium. The phones are all operator-assisted calls, or third-party billing calls can be made. Should you wish to have a phone installed at Rutgers Stadium, contact Verizon at 1-800-564-9911 or 9922.

PLAYER INTERVIEWS

All player interviews must be arranged through the Athletic Communications Office at least one day in advance. Players are available in person on Mondays at the weekly Rutgers Football Luncheon, and following practice on Tuesdays and Wednesdays, pending class schedules/availability.

Please consult with Jason Baum regarding availability. Player availability at other times will vary from week to week. A time mutually convenient for the player and the member of the media can be set up by the Athletic Communications Office. During a traditional game week, there will be no player interviews after Wednesday until following the game.

Rutgers was one of 11 schools named to the Football Writers Association of America "Super 11" field of sports information departments. The award was given to the best sports information departments in the NCAA Division I Football Bowl Subdivision during the 2009 season.

MEDIA INFORMATION

COACH SCHIANO INTERVIEWS

All interview requests must be arranged through Jason Baum. Coach Schiano will be available to the media every Monday on the BIG EAST Coaches Conference call at 11 a.m., Tuesday at his weekly press conference at 1 p.m. in the team meeting room of the Hale Center and after practice on Wednesday and Thursday.

COVERING PRACTICE

Rutgers' preseason practices begin August 5. Throughout the season, practice will be open to the media for the first 30 minutes on Tuesday and Wednesday. Practice is closed to the media on Sunday and Thursday.

FILMING AT PRACTICE

On Tuesday and Wednesday, video and photo access is available during individual periods of practice. Tripods are not permitted on the practice field and media members must stand at least five yards off the sideline.

WEEKLY PRESS LUNCHEON

Selected players will be available each Monday at the Rutgers Football Luncheon from 11:15-12 noon in the stadium club of the Hale Center.

CollegePressBox.com

Collegepressbox.com is the official media website for BIG EAST football. Access and download weekly game notes, quotes, statistics, media guides and more for the conference and each of its eight member schools throughout the season. Login information will be distributed to accredited media or you can apply for a password by sending an e-mail to password@collegepressbox.com.

RUTGERS RADIO NETWORK

All Rutgers football games will be broadcast over the Rutgers Radio Network to 50,000 watt WOR 710-AM in New York City, Central Jersey's WCTC 1450-AM and 97.5 FM The Fanatic in Philadelphia and South Jersey.

Play-by-play announcer Chris Carlin is well known to sports radio fans throughout the State of Rutgers. The 37-year-old Carlin is in his 10th year with the Rutgers Radio Network, including his seventh as the play-by-play voice of Rutgers Football. Carlin is also the play-by-play voice for Rutgers Basketball and is the host of the New York Mets pre-game and post-game shows on SportsNet New York and serves as co-host of two television shows on SNY - "Loud Mouths" and "Beer Money."

Former Rutgers standout quarterback Ray Lucas begins his second season as the color analyst on the Rutgers Radio Network. The seven-year NFL veteran has also been an analyst for SNY on their New York Jets programming since 1996.

Anthony "Focili" Fucilli returns for his seventh season as the Rutgers Radio Network sideline reporter. Fucilli is also a field producer and reporter for MSG Network since 1989.

Marc Malusis is back for his second year as the pre-game and post-game host on the Rutgers Radio Network. The pre-game shows starts one hour prior to kickoff while the post-game show stays on the air one hour following the game.

ATHLETIC DEVELOPMENT AND TICKET OPERATIONS

Rutgers Athletics donors continued an unprecedented string of achievement by setting yet another fundraising record during the 2009-10 athletic seasons. Responding to a challenge to better the $16 million record set in 2008-09, our donors pushed gifts and pledges to an all-time high this past year nearing $17 million. Annual fundraising figures have grown exponentially since 2004-05 when the annual giving total was just $3.5 million.

The student-athletes, coaches, and staff thank you for delivering your loyal, phenomenal support. Your help has enhanced the experience for all those who enjoy Rutgers sports and has made it possible for Rutgers to attract the best and brightest student-athletes. Your support provides us with the financial resources to offer scholarships, develop a renowned academic support program, improve training and competition facilities, and embark on trend-setting initiatives such as the Life Skills Program that will benefit the lives of hundreds of young men and women. Most importantly, your generosity enables us to create an environment of excellence where student-athletes will earn degrees, become leaders, and win championships.

If you would like to learn more about charitable giving opportunities, premium and priority seating options, and/or season ticket and single game ticket purchases please contact any member of our staff. We will be happy to assist you.

Thank you, again, for your ongoing support of Rutgers Athletics.

WHY SCARLET?

Rutgers was a pioneer in establishing a college color, and a pioneer in using a color on the sporting field. The color scarlet was first proposed in the campus newspaper, The Targum, in May of 1869. It was adopted shortly thereafter. This color was chosen because it is a striking color and because good scarlet ribbon could be easily obtained. From the time of its choice by the students, scarlet has been the Rutgers color. College and university colors and coats of arms were not unusual in the Old World, but had been little-used in the New World. They came into large and vivid use only when athletics began to take rigorous hold in this country.

In the historic first college football game Nov. 6, 1869, the Princeton team members watched the Rutgers men don turbans and kerchiefs as close to scarlet as possible for team identification. Even without scarlet shirts, the headgear alone had added another "first" - the custom of wearing caps of a team's college, one long-copied over the years of football uniform development.

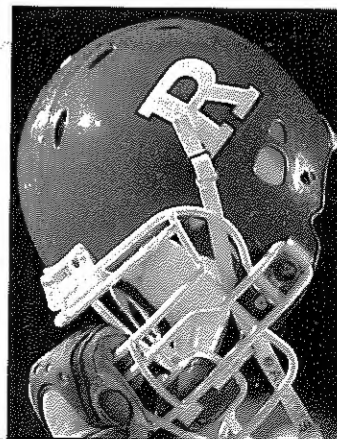

Sports lore at Rutgers has also known such terms as "Scarlet Scourge" and the lasting "Upstream Rutgers!" from the first big-time grid venture under George Foster Sanford. Through the years, scarlet has become embodied in the literature and songs of the college. Scarlet is identified with its sons and daughters, and is highly emblematic of the school itself.

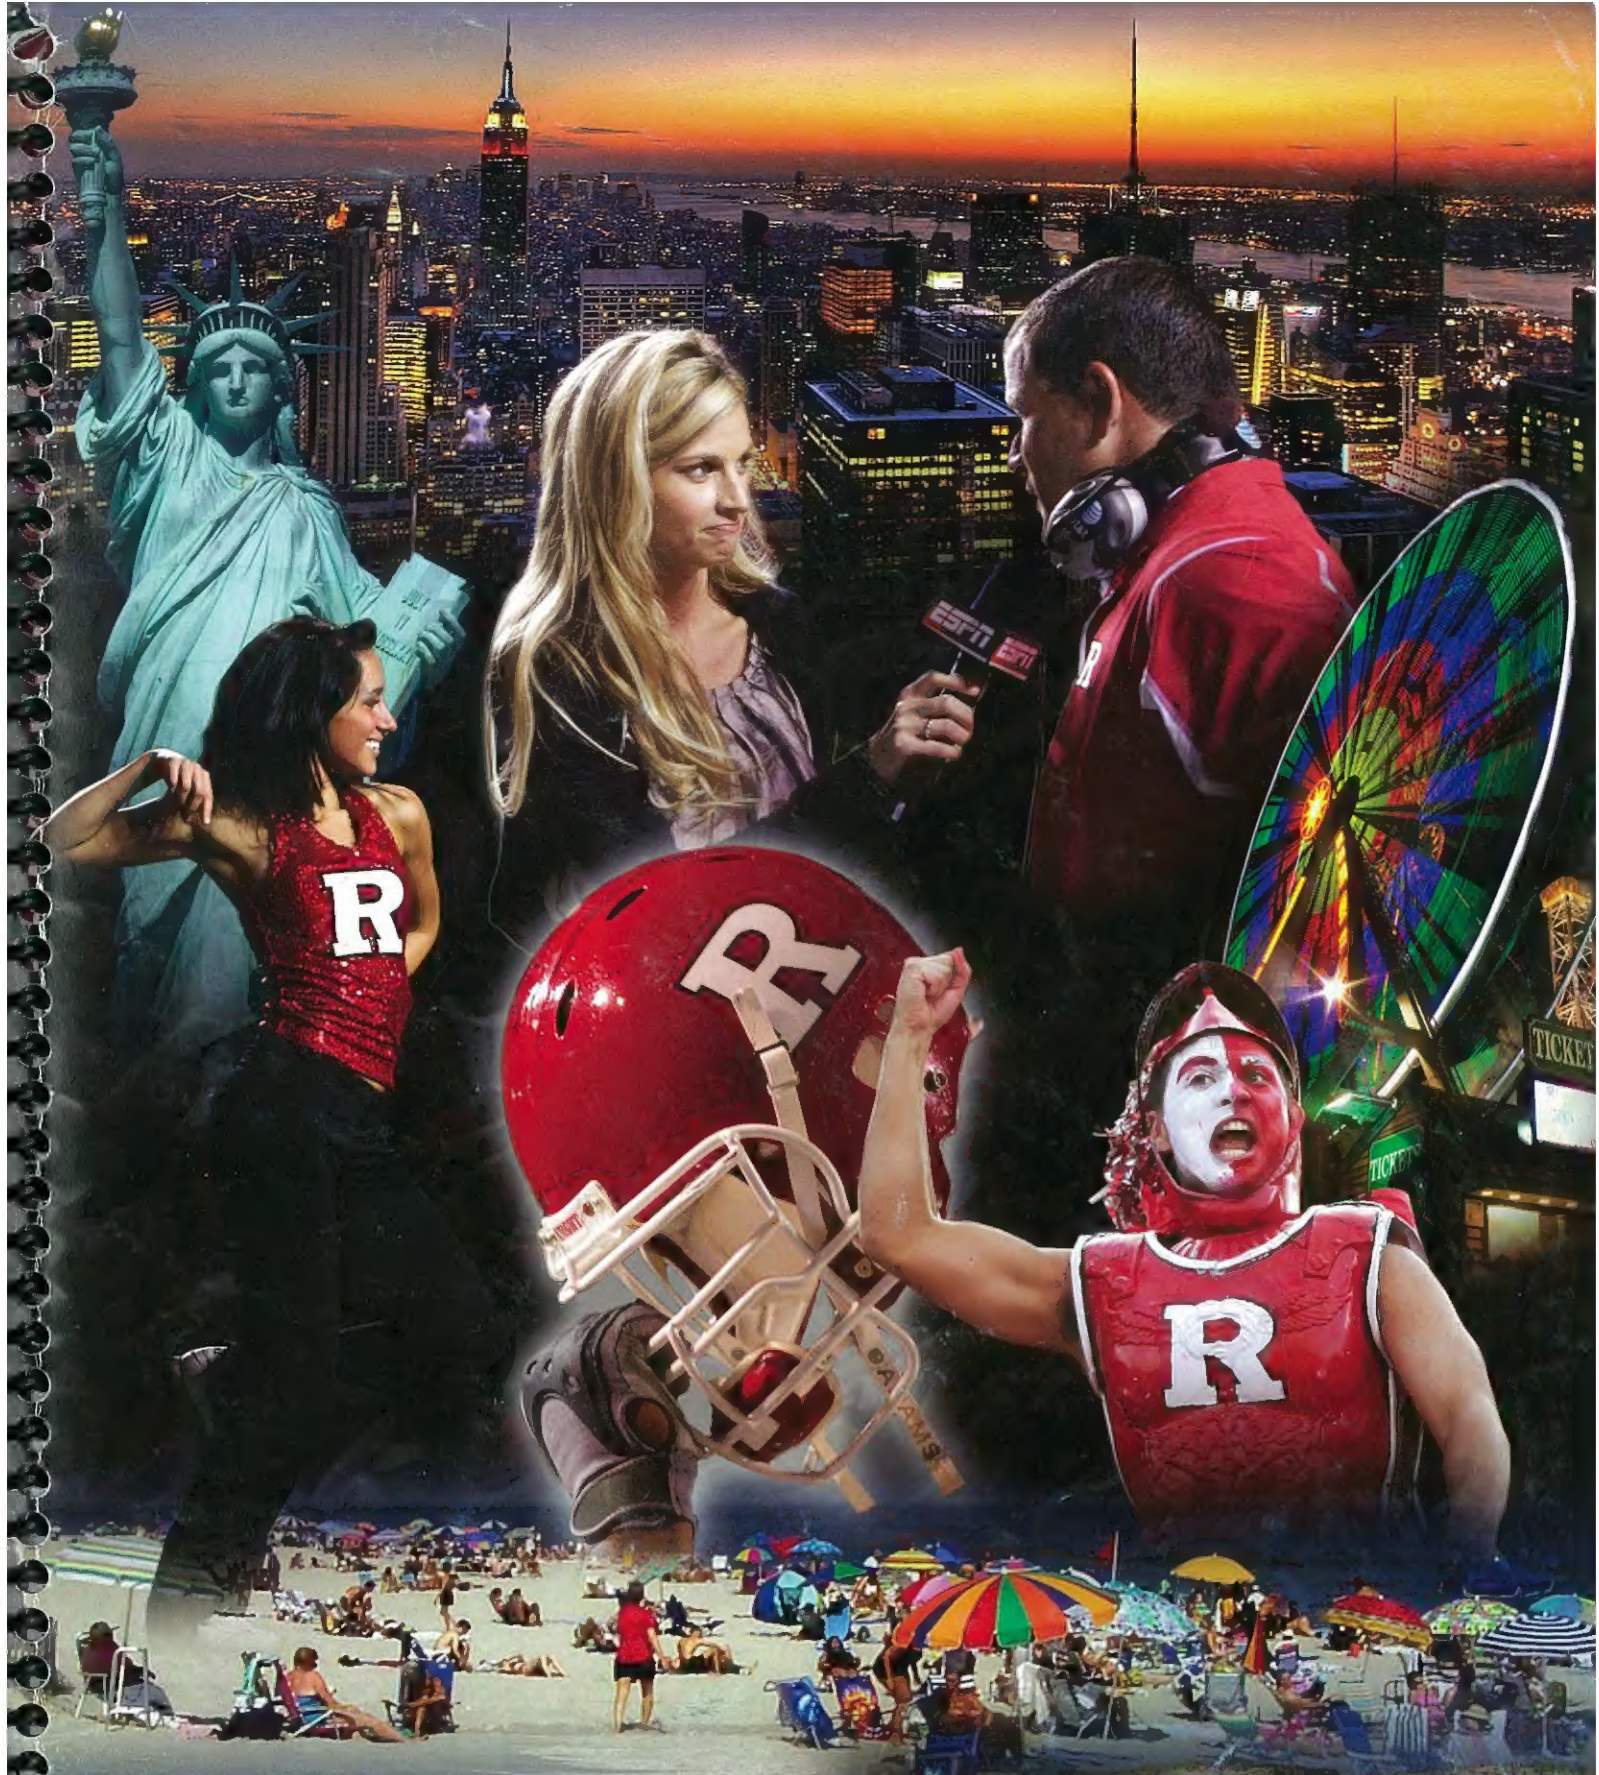

WHY KNIGHTS?

Since the days when the school was officially known as Queens College, the athletic teams were referred to as the Queensmen. Officially serving as the mascot figure for several football seasons beginning in 1925 was a giant, colorfully felt-covered, costumed representation of an earlier campus symbol, the Chanticleer. Though a fighting bird of the kind other schools have found success with, to some the Chanticleer bore the connotation of "chicken." The Chanticleer remained as the mascot, and Queensmen as the nickname, for some 30 years.

In the early 1950s, in the hope of spurring both the all-around good athletic promise and fighting spirit of Rutgers' teams, a campus-wide selection process changed the mascot to that of a Knight.

By 1955, the Scarlet Knights had become the new Rutgers mascot. The Scarlet-garbed knight, riding a spirited white charger, came to represent a new era - the rejuvenation of first-class football "On the Banks."
